TIME TO PRESENT WAR CLAIMS AGAINST GERMANY EXPIRES JAN. 1

Lowell Industries Not Putting in Claims Under the "Recovery" Peace Agreement—Claims Due Local Concerns for War "Injury" to Goods Not Worth Bothering With

Under the terms of the peace treaty between Germany and the United States, it was agreed that Germany must pay to citizens of the United States (including corporations, associations and partnerships) claims for loss, damage or injury arising as a consequence of the war beginning with the inception of hostilities on July 31, 1914.

Lowell textile manufacturers were notified sometime ago that all claims, if put in at all, must be filed before Jan. 1, 1923. It was said today in textile circles that no large industrial interests in this city have bothered to file any claims under the "recovery" peace agreement, although more than one corporation is entitled to reimbursements for certain amounts incurred. If the trouble was taken to collect them.

At a local textile plant this morning, it was stated that small claims are due the Lowell concern from Germany for war "injury" to goods taken by the Germans from storage during the war and never paid for, but no effort was made today to file them.

FINANCE COMMISSION TURNS EVIDENCE OVER TO O'BRIEN

Copy of Testimony at Recent Hearings on Graft Charges in Connection With Sale of Synagogue to City of Boston for Playground Presented to District Attorney

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—The municipal finance commission today presented to District Attorney O'Brien of Suffolk county as evidence which seemed to show that a crime might have been committed, a copy of the testimony at the public hearings in the graft charges in connection with the city council's passage of a loan order for purchase of a North End synagogue for playground purposes.

This evidence included testimony introduced in support of charges that four councilmen had changed their votes, that the Congregation Beth Israel, which owned the synagogue set aside $10,000 to put the deal through. It appeared in testimony also that John J. Gartland, former state senator, was given $1,000 of this amount. The explanation of the manner in which he disposed of this sum was said by counsel for the commission at the hearings to be unsatisfactory. One witness testified that President Isaac Heller of the Congregation said that "everyone at city hall from the Odon Hagodol had to be taken care of." Other witnesses testified that the term Odon Hagodol might be broadly translated to mean the big chief, or the mayor.

FIRE PREVENTION TIPS BY SUPT. SAUNDERS

Now that the Christmas season is here Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department offers a little sound advice for all those who intend to decorate their homes for the festive season, of which there are many each year, the direct result of Christmas trees and decorations. One startling statement made by the chief was that at least one Christmas fire last year at least one resulted in a fatality. This information he received from the Fire Underwriters' association.

One particular form of decoration that the chief is making war on is the

MUST HAVE PERMITS TO USE OIL HEATERS

Application blanks have been received at the water department office in city hall for all those who intend to install domestic oil-heating apparatus and to keep, store and use oil in a dwelling house or other buildings in connection therewith.

The blanks are from the division of fire prevention, department of public safety office in Boston. According to Chief Saunders, the law now prohibits the use of gravity oil heaters unless permits are issued by the chief of the department. The chief says that the law is a new one and he has not yet had a chance to examine it at any great length. He believes, however, that it will not have any effect on those people using the small oil heater such as is used for heating a small room.

The chief said he thought the law was aimed at those storing large quantities of oil in the same manner as those who maintain gasoline stations under permits.

One-Third of Registered Vote Cast at Noon in First City Election Under Plan B Charter

Lowell Today Electing a Mayor, 15 Councilors and Six School Committee Members to Serve Under New Organ of Government—Lack of Interest in Mayoralty Contest Apparent in Some Sections While Enthusiasm Runs High in Others—Complete Returns Expected by 10 P. M. and Some Precincts Will Report Before 7 O'Clock

Approximately one-third of Lowell's registered vote had been polled at 12 o'clock this noon in the first city election under Plan B charter, whereby there will be elected a mayor, 15 councilors and six school committee members to begin varying terms of service on Jan. 1.

Prior prognostications of a light vote were substantiated in part and in some sections of the city the same apathy that had marked the campaign still was apparent in the vicinity of polling booths but in other sections, interest ran high and seemed to grow in intensity as a warmer noon day sun took some of the early morning sharpness from the air.

In every precinct there are at least two police officers and in several of them there are three. These extra policemen were requested by Mayor Geo. H. Brown, to be assigned to all precincts in ward 1 and in precincts of ward 7 and ward 2.

The mayoralty candidates, Mayor George H. Brown and John J. Donovan, have marshaled all available vehicles of transportation in an effort to bring out a large vote and at several wards, councilor contests were so keen as to add an impelling force. Although no opportunity is being overlooked to augment the poll, at the end of the first six hours in only a very few precincts had more than one-third of the registered voters responded.

At Precinct 1 of ward 1, located in a booth adjacent to the police station at 12 noon, 225 out of 332 registered voters had cast ballots, or slightly less than one-third that seems to prevail through the city. For years this precinct has been called the "barometer precinct," but recently it has fallen from its position of high estate and cannot be relied upon unfailingly to reflect the attitude of the city at large.

In direct contrast to the evident lack of interest in large republican districts, was the manifest enthusiasm in the mayoralty fight in West Centralville and Pawtucketville precincts. Precinct 3 of Ward 7, in Riverside street, with a registration of 1198, had polled

SUN WILL GIVE ELECTION RETURNS

Tonight, as rapidly as returns from precincts are received, The Sun will throw them by stereopticon upon a screen to be placed on the front of the building at a second floor window. It is expected this service will commence before 7 o'clock and will be continued until complete results are in, except if there are delayed returns far beyond a reasonable hour.

600 votes, or nearly half of its strength at noon. This is purported to be a Donovan stronghold and his supporters see in it a good omen. At the Greenhalge school precinct of Ward 6, which has a leaning toward Mayor Brown, the vote at 12 o'clock was 550. In this precinct the largest vote ever cast there at 7 a. m., one hour after the polls opened, was represented by the 197 ballots that had been placed in the machine at that time. A long line, extending well out into the school yard, awaited the opening of the polls at 6 o'clock and for an hour the precinct officers were kept on the jump. There was a lull in mid-forenoon, but a heavy vote was anticipated between 12 and 2 o'clock.

The voting in democratic strongholds during the forenoon was not brisk, as shown by figures obtained at the Madison school precinct of ward 1 and the Hilsford square precinct of ward 6, where, respectively 246 and 273 votes had been cast at noon. In each case this is about one-third of the strength of each precinct.

Precincts in the Highlands showed less interest than any others. At 12 o'clock at S-L, Westford and Harbor-

SEVEN EXECUTED IN DUBLIN FOR WRECKING TRAIN

Four Railway Men and Three Laborers Said to Have Been Members of Republican Army Put to Death This Morning—Nineteen Have Been Executed by Free Staters in Month

DUBLIN, Dec. 19.—(By the Associated Press) Four railway men and three laborers were executed here this morning for interfering with trains in County Kildare.

The seven men executed were captured Nov. 18 by Free State troops in a house the location of which is unknown. With them a quantity of stolen goods, rifles and ammunition was found.

The men were tried by a military committee and sentenced to death on the charge of train wrecking.

The sentence was carried out at 8.30 o'clock this morning.

The men executed are reported to have been members of the republican army.

The official army report of the executions gives the names of the men as Stephen White and Patrick Bagnel of Kildare, laborers; Joseph Johnston and Patrick Mangan of Kildare, railway workers; James O'Connor of Rathfriland, Tipperary, and Patrick Nolan of County Wick.

Webster U. Grant and Unnamed Companions Charged With Killing Paymaster

Report at Lausanne That Draft Will Be Presented to Turks on Saturday

Warrants for Their Arrest Issued by Boston Municipal Court Today

LAUSANNE, Dec. 19.—(By the Associated Press) It was reported this afternoon that a complete draft of the peace treaty drawn up as a result of the deliberations of the Near East conference here would be presented to the Turks on Saturday.

Today's session of the conference body dealing with the question of the straits was adjourned at 2 o'clock until tomorrow without an agreement having been reached.

The Turkish delegates were conciliatory during the discussions but the Russian representatives maintained an attitude of opposition.

Lord Curzon announced that the discussions were dragging on too lengthily, and that tomorrow's meeting must be the last for consideration of the straits problem.

Foreign Minister Tschicherin of Russia made an effort during the debate to draw fire from the American delegation. He argued that the American statement as to the attitude of the United States on the question of the straits should be interpreted to mean that only warships on errands of mercy could go through the straits to the Black sea. The American representatives did not reply to the soviet minister.

DRY OFFICER ROBERTS IS TRANSFERRED

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—James P. Roberts, prohibition enforcement officer, last night said that reports from Washington that he had been transferred to the estate tax branch of the internal revenue service of the treasury department "did not surprise him." Mr. Roberts was with this branch before receiving his present appointment. He said he had not been formally notified of his transfer.

According to Washington advices the prohibition enforcement officer is to be transferred at his own request. Prohibition officials there said that only personal reasons actuated Mr. Roberts in making the request.

Mr. Roberts refused to discuss reports current here that the change was due to friction with Elmer C. Potter, prohibition director.

Time to Present War Claims Expires Jan. 1

fort will be made at this time to put in claims, because the beller is held locally in industrial park that Germany will never be able to pay such claims, and it would be a costly undertaking for local claimants to push their cases through to any final adjustment. Few textile manufacturers in Lowell have any sizable claims such as specified in the action to be taken on Jan. 1, although the Saco-Lowell shops have a claim against Germany that might be collected if Germany had the money, it was said today.

The former Lowell textile company that recently sold its plant in North Chelmsford to a Worcester man, after going out of business, was known to have turned out certain "war goods" to good advantage. Textile centers tell a story today of goods manufactured at the North Chelmsford plant and forwarded abroad before the war, only to have the goods sequestered by the Germans when war started, entailing severe losses to the Lowell industrial plant that were never cancelled.

Whether claims have been put in for these alleged losses or not, no one in local textile circles today familiar with the affairs of the defunct concern, could say.

day failed to find any executives availing themselves of the possibilities of filing any new claims for losses sustained during the late war. Claims that were certain to be properly taken care of by the United States, as well as other nations in the allied line-up, were filed sometime ago. So far as known very few corporations had goods en route through Germany at the time the war broke out, with the exception of the Saco-Lowell people, and the latter shipment was not of large size at the time when the Germans started their march into Belgium.

Word came today from Concord, N. H., that the New Hampshire Manufacturers' association has taken action as a body to recover reimbursements on "war goods" sent abroad and retained without payment by Germany. It is said a number of New Hampshire manufacturers were badly "stung" by the war in losses as a result of unpaid merchandise held and finally distributed in Germany as war loot.

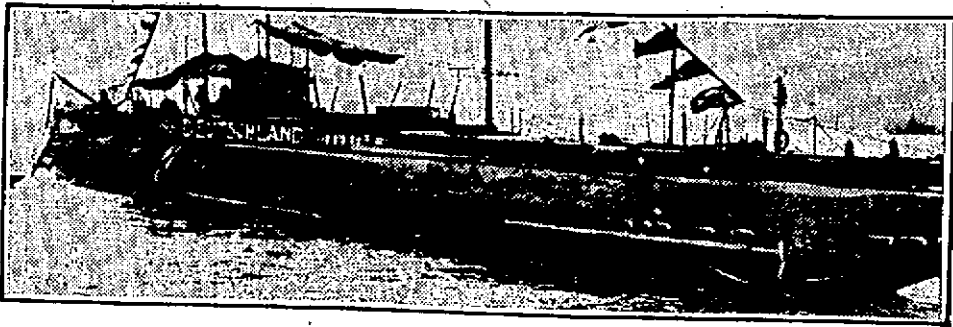

The New Hampshire manufacturers are working not so much in the hope of getting any money out of Germany at this time, but have started a campaign to recover amounts paid for war risk insurance since July 31, 1914, on property plant and plants, whether in this country or abroad; also for loss of life or personal injury in consequence of an unlawful belligerent act.

The claims for reimbursement on war risk insurance "monies" paid out lavishly by the manufacturers of the New England states during the late war are really enormous in the aggregate.

It is said that the recovery of this insurance money is made possible through the provisions of the peace treaty between the United States and Germany, and also through the medium of property in the hands of the alien property custodian.

All claims must be filed before January 1 next, at the state department, Washington, and must be filed in duplicate, containing a full and detailed statement of the facts and circum-

"Knocks germs cold"—said our druggist

"Mr. Perkins has an awfully attractive and up-to-date drug store. He says he selects the goods he sells as carefully as he his prescriptions. He advised me to use Sypho-Nathol."

"You'll hunt a long time before finding anything as reliable or as effective," he said. "I know, or I wouldn't have it on sale. Sypho-Nathol knocks germs cold."

"I wouldn't be without Sypho-Nathol now for anything. I used Sypho-Nathol first in our sink. For months, it had had an unpleasant odor that we couldn't get rid of. I followed the directions on the bottle—a teaspoonful in a quart of water—and poured the clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution down the pipe. That ended the sink smell."

"I used Sypho-Nathol for the garbage can. I never could keep it from smelling before—nor keep the flies away from it. Sypho-Nathol ended that trouble also."

"I never felt that our bathroom was completely sanitary. But Sypho-Nathol disposed of that difficulty."

"Now I use Sypho-Nathol regularly all over the house—wherever there is a chance for germs to breed or odors to start."

Sypho-Nathol meets a great need for a household antiseptic, disinfectant and deodorant because it is free from the objections that householders have to ordinary disinfectants. Sypho-Nathol is sure, it absolutely destroys germs and odors. Sypho-Nathol is pleasant to use. Its faint, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sypho-Nathol is safe. Although 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, it is no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap. It cannot hurt the skin nor injure household things. Sypho-Nathol is easy to use. Just a teaspoonful in a quart of warm water, and it is ready.

Your grocer, or druggist, has Sypho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 16c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If he hasn't it, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sypho-Nathol."

REID BETTER—"DOPE" PROBE

Movie Star Winning His Fight—Able to Take a Little Nourishment

Ministers to Ask Los Angeles Council to Investigate Use of Habit-Forming Drugs

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Wallace Reid, who is in a Hollywood sanitarium, is resting easier today, with an overnight decrease in temperature, according to Mrs. Reid.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Reports early today from the sanitarium where Wallace Reid, motion picture actor, is suffering from a breakdown which relatives ascribed to complications from the use of whiskey and narcotics, indicated an improvement in his condition. Reid's physicians said the actor's temperature was nearly normal and that his pulse had dropped from 130 to 112. They added Reid was able to take a little nourishment.

The Methodist Preachers' Association of Southern California planned to ask the city council today to appoint a commission of men and women to make a thorough investigation of the use of the habit-forming drugs in Los Angeles.

The Methodist preachers adopted a resolution in which it was stated: "It is persistently rumored that the names of some of the biggest producers and actors in southern California are linked with the (Reid's) plight. In all this the city has suffered irreparably. The cinema industry has suffered. These conditions either obtain or they do not obtain. These stories are either false or true. The cinema industry is either infected with an immoral element that threatens its credit, good morals and decency in city and nation and this city's good name, or else it has been and is being mislabeled and slandered in an unthinkable manner."

The association asked the appointment of a commission with "power and authority to summon witnesses, administer oaths and take evidence, in the end that the truth may be known" and requested that the ministerial union and the church federation take similar action.

IN MEMORIAM

Charles F. McCarthy—Died Dec. 18, 1922. "And dost thou lead him hence with thee O setting sun, And leave the shadows all to me When he is gone? Ah, if my grief his guardian be, I count each loss felicity, And bless the night." MRS. CLARA E. MCCARTHY & SONS.

FATHER had planned a brilliant future for him. Mother's high hopes for his success were supported ably by her everlasting faith in him.

But the boy was a bitter disappointment. He was being outdistanced steadily by his schoolmates, was dull, listless all the time, "felt sick" most of the time, never had "pep" for play nor ambition for his future.

Father had about given him up. Poor mother's heartstrings were nearing the breaking point. Evidently, it was not to be.

Then an old friend of the family—a man successful in every sense—came to the boy's rescue. Today, the father is proud of the boy who is indeed a joy to his mother.

It was simply a case of poor digestion, sluggish liver and constipation gradually dulling the senses and poisoning the system.

Knowing from experience that Beecham's Pills were harmless as well as efficient, the old friend suggested them. They made the boy well—as they have hosts of other children, and grown-ups, too, who suffered from like disorders.

INTERNATIONAL COTTON MILLS ARE BUSY

Several departments of the International Cotton Mills, formerly the Ray State Cotton Corp., in Marginal street and Broadway, are being operated nights and Agent Dexter stated today that plans are now underway for an expansion of the night work.

The company manufactures five fabrics and five cords exclusively and it has orders on hand to keep the entire mill in operation day and night until June. The day gang works from 7:15 a. m. to 5 p. m. and then at 5:30 p. m. the night shift goes on and remains on the job until 5 a. m. The output of the company is greater than it ever was and the prospects are good for a banner year in 1923. Agent Dexter stated today that the payrolls contain 1100 names or about 800 more than in ordinary times and there is work in the plant for more skilled operatives.

candle. He says that he is placing much stress against using the candle for decorative purposes because this had seemed to be coming back this year. Years ago the candle was the chief instrument used in decorations, but with the coming of the small electric light the candle passed out of use. In the past year or two candles have become popular once more. The chief suggests that the small electric light be used, and for those who do not care to use them he suggests that an effective method for illuminating the tree is to focus a bright light upon it.

Placing candles in windows near lace curtains, Christmas bells and other decorations is also a dangerous practice, the chief avers. In general, he condemns the use of open flames in any form.

In outlining a set of rules Chief Saunders places emphasis on the setting up of trees securely. Many fires have been caused by the fact that trees are not imbedded in secure foundations and that when they become loaded down with gifts the slightest jar is apt to topple them over. Saucers are also warned to use care when near flammable materials.

The use of toys requiring alcohol, gasoline or kerosene for their operation should be avoided as much as possible. The chief gives some general instructions to electricians, those who dress up as Santa Claus and the public in general, which if followed out carefully, will greatly reduce the number of fires. The suggestions are as follows:

Make sure that the Christmas trees are securely set up so that they will not topple over and keep them away from heating and lighting fixtures. Use metal tinsel, fake asbestos and powdered mica for snow effects instead of paper clipings and cotton. Smokers should be extremely careful with matches and smoking material while near trees and decorations. Evergreens should be removed immediately after Christmas before they have completely dried out.

"Avoid toys requiring alcohol, gasoline or kerosene for their operation and also dress material picture machines using inflammable films. Low priced electrical playthings, too, should be taboed, since they often are defectively wired and frequently have insecure, dangerous connections; they have caused serious burns and fires."

"If Santa Claus is to be present at the celebration persuade him to avoid alarm."

GUARDS WHO ESCAPED FROM RIOTS TESTIFY

MARION, Ill., Dec. 19.—Four of the guards who escaped from the Herrin riots were in court today to testify against five men on trial in connection with the killing of a score of non-union workers at the Lester strip pit last June.

Severely cross-examining state's witnesses, the defense moved yesterday to lay the foundation for its case, the announced intention to prove an alibi for each of the five defendants.

Special attention was directed to the exact time of the killings. The witnesses also were questioned closely on their identifications of the accused men.

Two Main Lines Entering Boston From South Were Tied Up Last Night

Providence Express Derailed —B. & A. Tracks Washed Away by Flood

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—The main lines of the two railroads entering this city from the south—the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Albany—which were choked by accidents at the same time last night, were operating again today. It was not until this morning that the New Haven completed repairs to the roadbed at Hyde Park, where a Boston-Providence-New London Express was derailed, although partial service past that point was restored during the night.

The Boston & Albany tracks under the Beacon street bridge, where the burst of a 42-inch water main flooded the roadway and washed away a section of the bridge, were tested and found able to carry the traffic after the water had been drained into Muddy river.

It appeared today that there would be no fatality as a result of either accident, notwithstanding that there were more than 300 persons on the crowded New Haven express train. Miss Josephine Hudisch of North Bergen, N. J., most seriously hurt, was reported on the road to recovery. Investigation of the derailment, still incomplete, was said officially to indicate that it was due to a broken rail.

IMPEACHMENT CHARGES

Hearings Move Forward at Slow Pace in Absence of Cong. Keller

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—In the absence of the principal prosecutor, Representative Keller, republican, Minnesota, hearings before the house judiciary committee on impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty moved forward today at a slow pace.

Representatives Woodruff of Michigan and Johnson of South Dakota, republicans, were before the committee by invitation of Chairman Volstead, but Mr. Johnson said his charges in the house last April regarding war funds were directed solely at the war department and Mr. Woodruff was not ready to proceed.

Both Mr. Johnson and Mr. Woodruff said there had been a decided change in the situation since last April when the latter charged the attorney general with a failure to prosecute war fraud cases.

W. Wickersham.

SUBMIT AGREEMENT TO SHOE WORKERS' UNION

HAVERHILL, Dec. 19.—The Shoe Manufacturers' association today submitted the draft of a proposed working agreement to become effective January 1, to officials of the Shoe Workers' Protective union. The agreement provides there shall be no voluntary stoppage of work and it to run for the year 1923.

Provision for a five and a half day week for 25 weeks and five day weeks the remainder of the year instead of the present five day week schedule is provided. Wages are to be settled annually on May 1 of each year and will become effective a month later.

A board of arbitration consisting of representatives of the manufacturers of the union and a neutral member would settle all disputes. Under the agreement only members of the union will be employed.

At a meeting of the union last night it was voted to continue the present agreement known as the "peace pact" if no other proposal were accepted.

A drive for members has been launched by the Boot & Shoe Workers' union, rival of the Shoe Workers' Protective union, in an effort to gain control of the industry in Haverhill.

You Wouldn't Knowingly Take Poison

Yet headaches, dizzy spells, indigestion and insomnia are usually only Nature's warning that you're constantly absorbing into your system poisons that should be eliminated by liver, kidneys, and bowels.

In SANALT the Sensible Tonic, you have a simple, harmless way of ridding yourself of these poisons, cleansing, and purifying your blood, stimulating secretive and excretive organs to normal action and regaining your "pep" and the joy and bloom of health.

In the more than 100 years that have passed since an old New England doctor originated the formula for this simple rebuilding tonic, SANALT has helped thousands of people just as it has helped Mrs. Carl Adams, of 456 Main St., Gardner, Mass. Here is her letter:

"I had been suffering terribly from nervousness for more than eight months. It was caused by bad condition of my stomach, which came so gradually that almost before I realized it I was suffering from intense headaches and spells of dizziness that were simply terrible. My kidneys and liver were both badly affected and I suffered intensely from backache. I have not yet finished my first bottle of Sanalt, but it has wonderfully improved my condition. The nervousness has almost gone, my stomach has been greatly helped, kidneys and liver are acting much better, and already I am convinced that Sanalt is true to name as 'Sanalt the Sensible Tonic.' I purchased Sanalt through the recommendation of Druggist Leathe, of Gardner, who said that if I was not satisfied with results he would return my money."

SANALT is safe for anyone to take. Contains no opiates, narcotics, or other harmful drugs. Like all the other famous Winsol remedies it can be bought at any drug store, for Winsol preparations are one line of trade-marked proprietary medicines sold by both Winsol Agents and non-agent druggists. No need to accept substitutes. If your druggist doesn't carry SANALT he can get it for you through his jobber.

NEUROPATHIC DROPS, the great emergency medicine, and CERIZANE BALSAM, for coughs, are two Winsol remedies that should be kept in every home. Ask your druggist about them.

B. O. & G. C. Wilson, Inc., established in 1848, is conducted on a unique profit-sharing plan which benefits everybody concerned—the Winsol Agent, all non-agent druggists, every Winsol employee and the general public. ## LASKER WRITES CAPPER

Accuracy of Statements in Latter's Paper Questioned by Ship Board Head

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Accuracy of statements made in a questionnaire sent out by Capper Weekly, published by Senator Capper, republican of Kansas, head of the Farm bloc, to ascertain public sentiment on the administration shipping bill is questioned by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board. In a letter received today by Senator Capper, in which the shipping board, Mr. Lasker told the senator that "whatever may be your position upon the pending ship subsidy bill I am sure you do not desire the readers of your paper to reach their conclusions on either inadequate or erroneous statements." "Because the statements in the circular of the organ controlled by you are not accurate and are wholly at variance with the facts," the letter continued, "I feel it my duty to you, to myself and to the people we both represent, to give you the facts and thus enable you to correct the erroneous impression your publication has created. You certainly would not wish, and I certainly could not permit, any part of our people to be misled concerning the provisions of the ship subsidy bill or the facts surrounding it." Mr. Lasker questioned particularly statements in the questionnaire that the government intended to sell its war-built merchant fleet for approximately $200,000,000, planned to "lend $125,000,000 to reconvert the ships or build others," and then would pay out about $150,000,000 in subsidies and aid to ship owners during the next 10 years. Mr. Lasker said he challenged anyone to find where the shipping board ever had proposed to sell its merchant fleet for $200,000,000.

PALMER, Dec. 19.—Fire which broke out in the roundhouse of the Ware River railroad, a branch of the B. & A., at about 5 a. m., today, burned off the roof of the structure and badly damaged three locomotives stored within. ## GOV. COX DEPLORES MOVE AGAINST LODGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Governor Cox of Massachusetts declared in a statement here yesterday that he regretted the attempt made by Conrad W. Crocker of Boston, in a protest filed last week with the senate to obtain a hearing on the election of Senator Lodge. As attorney for John A. Nicholls, defeated prohibition candidate, and as representative of the Liberal Republican League of Massachusetts, Mr. Crocker protested and challenged the election on the ground of "flagrant irregularities" in the November senatorial election and declared Senator Lodge was a minority winner and in effect had been repudiated. Governor Cox referred to the protest as "an attempt to persecute Senator Lodge," adding that the latter had "won his fight fairly" and that he "resented the action" particularly because it is really an attempt to injure the good name of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, which is proud of the fact that its elections are honest.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Joseph Herrkner, 55 years of age, appeared in the district court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on James Custer, and after hearing the testimony of both sides, the court ordered the case continued until tomorrow for further investigation. On the witness stand, Custer exhibited a wooden implement with which he alleged, defendant struck him several times with little or no provocation. He also stated that Herrkner had threatened to "get him" on numerous occasions and that he carried the threat into execution a few days ago. When questioned, defendant admitted striking Custer with the leg of a chair, but said he did it because the latter's wife had interfered with him to reproach her husband for previous ill-treatment. The wife will be summoned into court tomorrow morning, at which time disposition of the case will be made. Ovilla Bourgeois pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was given a one-month's sentence to the house of correction. It was already under a suspended sentence for the same offense. George A. Dixon pleaded not guilty to the theft of a watch and chain and the case was continued until Dec. 26, bonds of $500 being furnished.

The regular meeting of the Educational club was held at 2.30 this afternoon in the rooms of the Central M.E. church. A pleasing program, "Christmas Songs and Stories," was presented under the direction of Mrs. E. D. Leggat.

$250,000 LOSS CAUSED BY FIRE AT NASHUA

NASHUA, N. H., Dec. 19.—Nashua had its worst fire in several years last evening when the main shops of the American Box and Lumber company of the Edgewood district were burned with a loss of between $200,000 and $250,000.

Finished lumber and four carloads of coffin shocks, just ready to go out were included in the loss. Of the 290 employees, 125 are thrown out of work. The finishing mill, saw mill, garage and boiler house were saved. The contents of the office were also saved. The fire was discovered by watchman John Lefavor and spread so rapidly that two alarms were sent in. The blaze started under the eaves of the planer mill, it is thought, from an overheated bearing. Most of the buildings were two-story wooden construction and with the contents made the most spectacular fire here for years.

COX SUGGESTS DRY VOLUNTEERS

Governor Would Have "Dolla-a-Year" Men Help Enforce Prohibition

Tells Pres. Harding More Men and More Money Are Needed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Problems of prohibition enforcement were discussed informally yesterday at a White House conference between President Harding, the federal department chiefs directly interested in the subject, and governors of 14 states.

There was no statement from the White House as to the results of the meeting, but it was indicated that the discussion revolved almost entirely upon the question of how the several states can best co-operate with the federal government in executing the terms of the prohibition amendment. It was indicated that another meeting of state executives may be called early in the coming year, at which time the subject would be canvassed more thoroughly.

At the White House luncheon, in addition to the president were Vice-President Coolidge, Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, Secretary Mellon, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, Govs. Cox, Massachusetts; Ritchie, Maryland; Trinkle, Virginia; Hartness, Vermont; McCray, Indiana; Killey, Alabama; Hyde, Missouri; Freus, Minnesota; O'Leary, Oregon; Allen, Kansas; Morgan, West Virginia; McKelvie, Nebraska; Davis, Idaho, and Campbell, Arizona.

According to some of those who attended, there was no suggestion raised during the three-hour conference which indicated belief that the situation might be helped by loosening the present stringent enforcement statute. To the contrary, it was said, the prevalent opinion seemed to have been that imposition of more severe fines and prison terms on conviction of violation would assist the enforcement officials in their work.

Other suggestions, all of which were declared later to have been "entirely informal," included a more careful selection of prohibition personnel, larger appropriations for the federal bureau and education of the general public to the necessity of law reverence.

"In many cases," Commissioner Haynes declared, after the meeting, "the reports of the governors were of an encouraging nature. Numerous

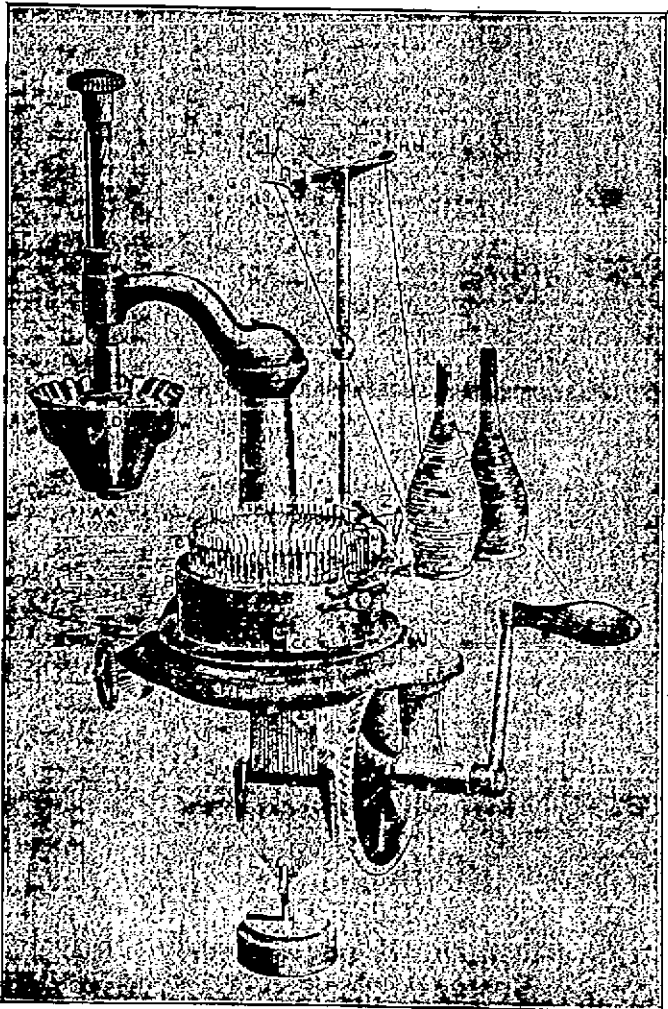

"SANTA'S LIEUTENANT" LOOKS LIKE GOOD ST. NICK

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 16.—"Yes, indeed I look like Santa Claus—but I'm only his first lieutenant," says Edward K. Chapman. And like Santa, he is essential to the spreading of Christmas joy in the big eastern cities. For 58 years he has been shipping in their Christmas trees. "I returned, wounded from the Civil war. I was penniless too, and as it was near Christmas time, I decided to go into the woods to get the strengthening odor of the pines. I cut a carload of Christmas trees and took them to New York, where I sold them. Now I ship 125 carloads a year, employing 100 men to cut them."

Instances of lack of co-operation were pointed out; many instances of the inadequacy of federal forces were suggested.

"There was a preponderance of an opinion that an earnest effort should be made to secure the support of the public in every possible way and must ask for the co-operation of the public, to develop public sentiment in favor of the enforcement of the law. Massachusetts can and will believe, co-operate in this. I feel that Massachusetts would back up the president in this.

Massachusetts can and will believe, co-operate in this. I feel that Massachusetts would back up the president in this.

"I believe that the president could also call for volunteers, men actuated by public sentiment and public welfare, men who would enter the prohibition enforcement service in the public interest. It is obvious you can't have real enforcement without enough men—and the men must be honorable."

MARSHAL PILSUDSKI MAY SEEK PRESIDENCY

PARIS, Dec. 19 (by the Associated Press).—An increasing probability that Marshal Pilsudski, former chief of the Polish state, will become a candidate for the presidency of Poland, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of President Narutowicz, is reflected in despatches received by the French foreign office. The marshal's intention to prevent reprisals against the nationalists after the assassination of the president is said greatly to have strengthened his position, and those in close touch with the situation assert he will now be able to muster such a majority as to remove his own objections to his candidacy.

Marshal Pilsudski could have obtained a majority of the votes in the national assembly election at which Narutowicz was chosen, according to these despatches, but his desire was for such support as would prevent the opposition saying he was the candidate of a single party or the choice of the smaller factions. Being in doubt as to the effect of the vote he could muster, he declined to become a candidate.

The situation has now changed, these sources add, and such a following as to oblige him to accept.

CONTINUE SEARCH FOR MISSING AIRMEN

Scouts who covered the territory last night reported that at least one of the stranded machine had failed.

He said reports on such meetings might with propriety be made available to absent association members and other interested parties.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE WEEK-END THEATRE

The week-end Christmas vaudeville offerings at the B. F. Keith theatre are up to standard, with more exceptional acts of the all-star brand featuring an excellent bill for the current period and giving patrons of the Bridge street playhouse an assortment of good things highly commendable from every standpoint. Special features improve this week's melange of interesting vaudeville, new patrons yesterday and all the "regulars" listening to popular melodies and seeing delightful sketches containing all the elements that make up ideal entertainment of the big chain quality.

Heading this bill of good things of the holiday brand is George Kelley's excellent gem of humor and intensity, "The Week Spot," a play of one act sure to please all playgoers witnessing this admirable pre-Christmas week show. Mr. Kelley is not new in play writing. More than one of the "best" on the vaudeville line has been written by George, the ready pen producer. "The Week Spot" comes first in line of all his recent successes such as "The Week Spot," "Woman's Progress" and "The Mattering Word."

Richard Kiefer, Della Evans and Marie Della—the latter presenting a unique bit of unusual merit—appear in this dramatic quality with a fortuitous telling episode that makes the audience wonder what is coming next. Sense moments, too, are there, with a connecting link of comedy holding the audience to the finish, when Kiefer, in the throes of remorse, huris a small container of salt over his left shoulder to banish danger and amend matters with the charming Della. That this excellent little skit on one of life's old comedies should originate in Quaker-town, of all places, makes the oddity all the better. It is a clever bit with excellent acting throughout, with a title of stage favorites well acquainted with putting genuine dramatic bits over the footlights.

Dixie Hamilton, clever always and in form on this her vitalizing appearance on the Lowell vaudeville stage, presents "a synopsized cocktail" with plenty of effervescence and tinge. Drift of surprises, thrills and comedy, too, is the act of Bill, Genevieve and Walter in a skit, "Want You Be Careful?" And some of the guest bachelors riding ever seen with rare experiments of the thriller department, too.

The Dawson sisters, dancers par excellence, follow with surprisingly good stepping, that wins the plaudits of all lovers of the called light fantasia. Premier xylophonists, indeed are the two Stenards. Grand opera in quantities, and not too much of it, for jazz winds up.

Comedy again, and this time with Pierce and Ryan, clever as usual, appearing in a lightness little presentation of mirth, "You're a Winner."

The special engagement for the week, billed in good shape and certainly a big drawing card as yesterday's two vaudeville shows were, the "My Daddy" act, with Broomstick Elliott and Babe LaTour on deck in new stuff of the whirlwind fun brand, delectable. Miss LaTour is no new comer, and both the lady and Mr. Elliott have been appearing hitherto in "singles," and always made good. They sing well, dance exceptionally well and have a good line of funny stuff in the talk line that makes this an ideal number.

her, even if it has to be labeled "special." It was "old friends' night" for Hilde and she made the most of it.

A third number, with an odd title, "Go Into Your Dance," allowed the Dawson sisters—Carmen and Marika—opportunities to display charming costumes in "parlor" dances. Miss Jackson at the piano and also assisting by playing two different orchestral instruments in solo and wind-up. The singing was of quality, too.

Aesop's Fables, more Topics of the Day and a travel picture showing nature at its best in British Columbia, with a good late news picture of Pathe excellence, including close-up views of the new German 300-passenger dirigible soon to appear in this country. ### THE STRAND THEATRE

Willbur Daniel Steele's famous prize story, "Ching Ching Chinaman," which ran in Editorial Review and was selected by Edward J. O'Brien, well known critic, as the best story of the season, is being shown by Strand pictures the first three days of the week under the title of "Shadows," and with its superb acting, fascinating scenes and thrilling plot, it is an accomplishment worthy of being classed with the great productions of the screen. As Yen Sin, a philosophic Chinaman and headstrong, Lon Chaney appears at his very best and is well supported in the play by such famous screen artists as Harrison Ford, Marguerite de la Motte, John Sainsbury and Walter Long. The story is laid in a quaint New England fishing village and opens with a thrilling storm so typical of sea shore towns. Daniel Gibbs, brutal husband of Sympathy by a forced marriage, is drowned at sea in the storm, his fate being narrated to the anxious home-folk by the only survivor of the wreckage, a fisherman and Yen Sin. Shortly after the disaster, a young handsome minister, Rev. John Malden arrives in the village to assume his ecclesiastical duties. His interest immediately turns toward Sympathy and Yen Sin, falling in love with the former and exerting his every effort on the conversion of the idol worshiper, Yen Sin. His love for the young widow, Sympathy, is returned, they being secretly married by Nate Snow, the rich man of the village, who covets Sympathy and who tricks the minister into believing that Daniel Gibbs is not dead, but that he is alive in a far-away town. While attending a church convention, a mysterious letter, signed "Daniel Gibbs" comes to Rev. Malden, saying that the secret will be kept if $500 is placed in a certain location. The message comes as the minister to the minister and he borrows money from Snow to pay the debt and keep the secret. The deception is carried along through several scenes, the climax being reached when Yen Sin is seized with a serious illness and sends for the minister. In the presence of Snow, the minister, his wife and many curious villagers, Yen forces Snow to confess that he is the blackmailer who has caused sorrow in the heart of the beloved minister and his wife. In the end Snow is forgiven, Yen Sin converted to the true light and the minister and his wife throw off the shadows and begin anew. The scene in the barge of Yen Sin by the seashore is one of the most tense and trying ones ever reproduced before the camera and only adds to the contention that "Shadows" is the best play of the season.

The second feature of the program introduces Shirley Mason in "The New Teacher," filled with her mode of living and her struggle to do something for the poor, she takes a position as teacher in the tenement district of New York. Learning of her plans, her mother, a well-to-do woman, sends her a metropolitan police force and becomes one of New York's finest in the brass buttons. After several thrilling episodes, the matrimonial bureau adds two names to its register. A comedy and "Fun from the Press" complete the bill.

THEATRE

A strong melodrama of the old type, introducing a wealth of love, romance and mystery, is included in the starring production, "Deserted at the Altar," which opened a four-day engagement at the Hilde theatre yesterday afternoon. The picture is far ahead of the usual booking of the theatre and because of that fact Manager Hammond arranged for a shooting on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. A capacity audience viewed the opening performance yesterday and was convinced that the production lived well up to the advance reports heralding its coming to Lowell.

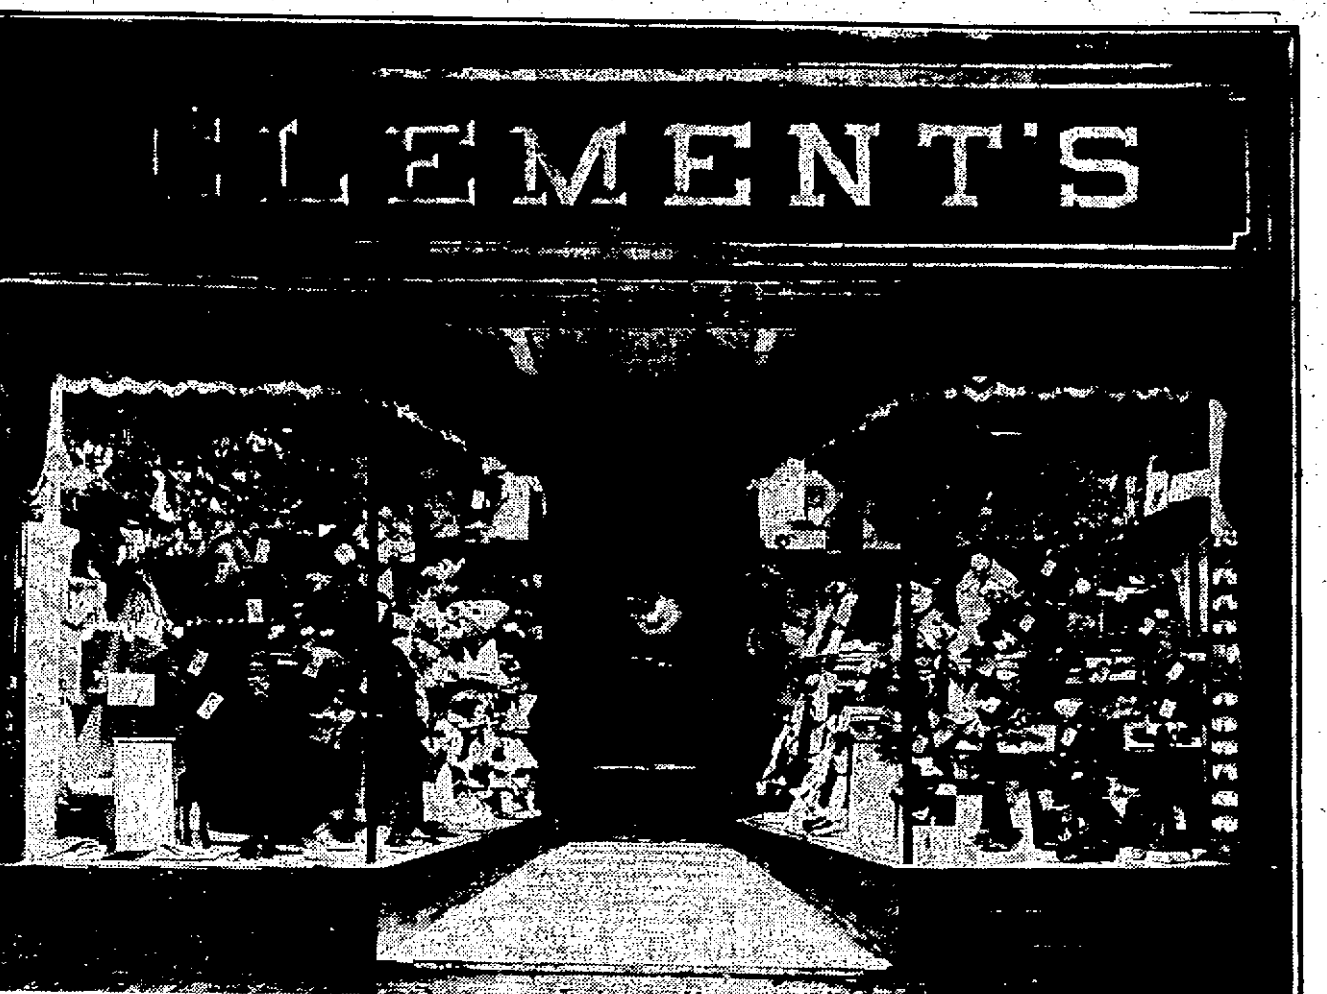

For the first two days of the week the feature production is supported by a strong westerner, introducing Hilde Gilson in "The Lone Hand," also an Arrow comedy, entitled "Designing Husbands," an episode of "In the Days of Buffalo Bill" and the Rialto News Review. This makes a well balanced program, which is suitable to persons of varied tastes.

"Deserted at the Altar" is a story of old New England innocent love stacked against the craftiness of an old miser, who is seeking to prevent the marriage of his niece and thereby get hold of an immense fortune which she is to inherit at the age of 21. It is a race between the old man's tricks and Dan Chid, but the latter wins out after surmounting many difficulties.

Ann and Tommy Moore are orphans, sheltered by the strict Puritan hospitality of Squire Simpson in the New Hampshire town of Uddersboro. The little lad is a typical "hickberry" Finn, a terror to his schoolmates and the bane of his teachers' existence. His only companion is the ever faithful dog that even carries his books to school and arranges for him to get in when he is late.

One day while fighting with another lad the boy is accidentally struck by an automobile driven by Thomas Grandall, returning to the city from a vacation, and he suffers a fracture of his arm.

Grandall carries the boy into his home, meets the sister Ann, and immediately decides he will remain in the vicinity until the boy is better. The courtship survives up between the pair and in due time it ripens into love, with a promise of marriage between them. Meanwhile, the squire gets a letter acquainting him of the fact that the daughter is to inherit a big fortune through the death of her uncle, and he sets designs upon the money.

The squire's son is a good-for-nothing fellow loafing within the city for 1923 includes the following games: April 19, Norwich University; May 27, Trinity at Hartford, Conn.; 28, Amherst at Amherst, Mass.; May 5, Trinity here. The track team will meet Trinity here on May 6.

INFLUENZA CASE REPORTED TODAY

Another case of influenza was reported to the board of health office today. This is the third case that has been called to the local department's attention this year. It will be remembered, however, that with the exception of one case reported on Oct. 3, the majority of the cases developed during the latter part of last winter. The health department is making every effort to prevent this disease from getting a hold here again this year.

WEAK AFTER WASTING ILLNESS

WINCARNIS Restores Strength

"I found Wincarnis very beneficial for weakness and when in a run-down condition. It is several years ago since I first tried this preparation and now whenever I need a tonic I turn to Wincarnis."

Some time ago my mother was in need of a tonic after recovering from a severe illness. I bought her a large bottle of Wincarnis which soon gave her back her strength.

Also my brother-in-law, who not long ago was down with influenza, is now taking your Wincarnis as a restorative and it is doing him a lot of good.

I always recommend Wincarnis to anyone I know who is in need of a good tonic."

TEN PERSONS KILLED

Renewed Clashes at Turin

Between Fascisti and the Communists

TURIN, Dec. 19 (by the Associated Press).—Renewed conflicts between the Fascisti and the communists here have resulted in the killing of ten persons, including two of the fascisti, resumed their openly hostile attitude toward the fascisti and yesterday two fascisti parties were ambushed with the result that one man was killed and others wounded. The fascisti thereupon mobilized, attacked the other party of labor and stormed or set on fire the headquarters of other subversive organizations, indicating punishment according to what they adjudged to be the relative guilt of the communists.

In these operations the total of dead was increased to five. The punishment was administered by the fascisti included clubbing and giving doses of poisonous medicine.

Among the dead is Municipal Councilor Peruto, while among the slightly wounded is Deputy Vincenzo Pagella, a Turin socialist representative.

Seven Executed in Dublin

For Wrecking Train

Rathbride, railway workers; and Brian Moore of Rathbride, laborer.

They were arrested with a number of others at Rathbride, in County Kildare, says the official report, which adds that they were found guilty by a military committee of possessing without proper authority, 10 rifles, 200 rounds of ammunition, four bombs with detonators and one exploder.

Today's executions make a total of 19 by the Free State in a little more than a month. The previous executions were:

Nov. 17—James Fisher, Peter Cassidy, Richard Tuohy and John Gaffney, Dublin republicans, shot for having revolvers in their possession.

Nov. 21—Eskine Childers, chief lieutenant of Eamon de Valera, executed for having had an automatic pistol in his possession.

Nov. 30—James J. Conboy, Patrick Farrelly, and John Murphy, executed for armed participation in a bomb attack.

Dec. 8—Rory O'Connor, Liam Melowes, Joseph McKelvey and Richard Barrett, executed in reprisal for the Hales assassination.

Train wrecking, the tearing up of railway tracks and the blowing up of bridges has been placed on a large scale by republican sympathizers in Ireland since the irregulars began their operations. This has badly organized the railway system and hurt trade, dispatches frequently telling of communication between Dublin and Belfast or between other important points in south Ireland being cut off.

Today's drastic action aimed at the interference with train operation was under the blanket measure passed by the Dail Eireann last fall giving authority to suppress disorders. Previous executions have been in connection with the use or possession of arms, except that the last infliction of capital punishment, on Dec. 8, when Rory O'Connor, Liam Melowes and two other republican leaders were executed, was officially announced as in reprisal for the assassination of Sean Hales, the deputy shot the day previous.

De Valera Escapes Arrest

LONDON, Dec. 18.—A report circulated in Paris last night that Eamon de Valera had been captured by Irish Free State authorities lacked corroboration here today.

It was believed that the report which was printed in a Parisian newspaper may have grown out of a Dublin dispatch appearing here yesterday which said de Valera had narrowly escaped arrest while attending mass in the Catholic University church, Dublin, inasmuch as he left the church just before troops arrived.

PROVIDENCE AND SALEM POLO LEAGUE WINNERS

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 14.—The fastest polo game seen at the local rink was staged last night and the Gold Bugs noosed out a win over New Bedford, 3 to 2. The Whalers played their regular steady game and Providence set the big crowd of fans in a frenzy by holding Duggan's crew tight all the way. New Bedford had two in and out shots and the Gold Bugs had one. Both goal tenders were in rare form, particularly in the final period, which was barren for both quintets. The score:

JIM CORBETT BACK IN RING

"Gentleman Jim" made a brief return to the squared circle, not to face an opponent but to referee a bout between a couple of tissueweights in a Christmas fund benefit. The two youngsters who did their stuff like veterans are Willie Wargo (right) and Harold Jensen (left). Note Willie's business-like crouch.

BOYLE-CLINTON BOUT $350,000 TO DEMPSEY LOOKS GOOD TO FANS FOR WILLARD BOUT

President "Deak" Dodge, of the Moody club has completed his card for Thursday night's show and it looks like one of the best of the season. Philney Boyle, local lightweight champion, and Johnny Clinton, former New England lightweight title holder, are the principals listed to perform in the feature event of ten rounds. This bout is one that should be eagerly awaited by boxing fans, as both are past masters in the art of self defense. It is evening great interest among followers of the sport.

Boyle has been boxing for about a dozen years, during which time he has appeared against many of the leading lightweights in the country. But in his last battle here when he met and defeated South Boston Johnny Downes, he showed the best form of his career. He not only boxed well, but he stood right in the center and fought like a tiger. This combination was an innovation for Boyle, but the new style brought him the victory.

Clinton is a clever fellow, who showed in his battle here with Tony Julian on Thanksgiving day, that he is an expert workman and can also hit hard and take stiff blows if necessary. His bout with Julian was a hummer all the way and in winning over the Brocktonian Clinton made a great impression.

Surrounding the Boyle-Clinton bout are three good numbers. Lefty Williams and Gusback Jack are to appear in the semi-final. Eddie Curran and Jimmy Richardson are scheduled for one preliminary and Johnny McGrady and Jimmy Duffy are to swap punches in the other six rounds.

LIVELY BALL HAS CREATED NEW STYLE

What about the lively ball that has caused all home-run records to be knocked to smithereens in the last three years?

President John Heydler of the National league recently came to the defense of the lively ball, saying it supplied the much needed punch of the game, hitting.

For a time the moguls of baseball ridiculed the idea that the new ball was livelier than those used five years back. That has all been settled. At the recent world series one of the off-ends of the lively ball, called the cork-center ball, was used in the modern ball.

The ball now in use is a lively ball because it is the best that has ever made. It must be admitted that it created a new era in sport, long-distance hitting. Also remember that during the last few years all attendance records have been broken, which makes it seem that the public is in favor of hard hitting.

SOUTHPAWS VERY SCARCE

Pitching runs in cycles. The major leagues constantly vary as to their pitching strength.

Just at present the American league is weak on southpaws. There really isn't a great left hander in the American league.

Dick Kerr of the Chicago White Sox, perhaps the most valuable southpaw in the organization, spent last year in the independent ranks because of a salary difference.

Helmach of the Athletics, Pennock of the Red Sox, and St. Louis, McGraw of the Yankees, and others of the Chicago are the best of a very ordinary lot.

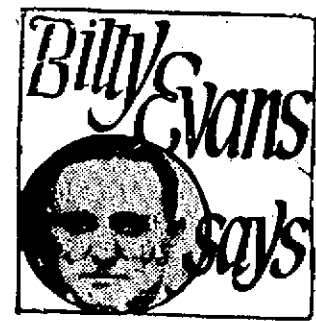

There is no southpaw in the American league who registers up to the caliber of Cooper of Pittsburgh, Nehf of New York and Rixey of Cincinnati.

YANKEE-WHITE SOX DEAL STILL ON

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, is authorized for the statement that the much rumored deal which would send Meusel, change for Eddie Collins, Edie Falk and another Chicago player, is "still on."

Huggins said that there was still hope that an agreement might be reached between the Yankees and the White Sox, which would result in the triple exchange.

He also said that there were indications that the deal by which the Sox's young pitcher of the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league, would come to a conference with Ray, Ray's appearance, he said, will be under the colors of the Illinois Athletic club.

Billy Evans says

Nick Altrock, king clown of baseball, got his stuff at various places and Nick's stuff happens to be his daily diamond set. Not so many years ago it was what he put on the ball, for Altrock was one of the game's greatest pitchers.

Altrock had little to work on when he started clowning. He had to seek material and he found some of it in strange places.

Nick's tight-wire act, one of the best things he does, was picked up at a stock yard in a back yard. Nick's next-door neighbor was a man who made his livelihood delivering milk. He had a county fair in the summer and autumn months. At the close of the season the performer returned home and practiced new stuff on a slack wire stretched across the yard in the rear of his home. Altrock used to sit at his window watching the practice for hours and Nick's act is not a burlesque but a perfect imitation of his neighbor practicing his program for the next summer.

One day Altrock visited the training camp of Johnny Kilbane and saw Johnny shadow box. He came again and again and worked up a shadow boxing act from what he saw Kilbane pull.

Then, one day Nick saw Zbyznuke wrestle and there he got the idea for his wrestling act.

"One day I was pulling the wrestling stunt in Washington," says Nick. "I had been pitching to batters in practice and I was wringing wet. I put my hand on my neck, intending to have a strange hold and started going down but the perspiration on my neck made it so slippery that my hand shot off and since I was off-balance at the time I went down, all my points on the shoulder."

"Talk about a sickening pain—I never felt anything like it before. I thought I'd never get up but I pretended to be laughing and made my way to the top of the ring. I was so dizzy that I took a taxi to a hospital and there they found that part of the bone had been chipped from the shoulder."

After that I was sure my neck was dry before I started the wrestling stunt. Also there are other serious moments for the performer while he is trying to amuse."

MIDGETS ORGANIZE

The Midgets of St. Patrick's school have organized a basketball team and are out to win the laurels of the city in their class. They will open their season tomorrow with a game with the Patrick's school second team in St. Patrick's gym. The lineup follows: Cox, P. Novak, R. Redding, C. Perry, H. Hasset, J. Cronin, J. J. Regan, J. D. Regan, J. D. Regan.

BASKETBALL

"JUMPING"
When two players are jumping in center and elsewhere, has one of the players the right to catch the ball if he can outjump his opponent?

Such a play is illegal. The ball must be tapped first. Then the jumpers or any other player may catch it.

"GUARDS"
Some guards have the habit of keeping their hands on the body of their opponent. Is this permissible? Guards have no such rights. It is contact, and a personal foul should be called by the referee for "holding" or "blocking."

"DRIBBLE"
Can a player after he starts a dribble alternate hands without violating the rules, or must he continue the dribble with the hand with which he started? A player dribbling the ball has a perfect right to alternate hands if he believes by so doing he can better execute the play.

CARPENTIER-SIKI BOUT

Study of Film Shows Descamps Spoke to Siki's Manager in Fifth Round

PARIS, Dec. 12.—A close study of the film of the Carpentier-Siki fight shows that Francois Descamps, manager of the French boxer, went to Siki's corner in the fourth round and said something to Hottel, the Senegalese manager, according to a story printed by L'Aurore today. The Journal recalls that, according to Siki's allegations, it was in the fourth round that the Negro had arranged to allow himself to be beaten. Vice President Bourbarrat of the boxing federation in an interview with L'Aurore, said that for the manager of one boxer to talk to the manager of another while a bout was in progress constituted a very serious fault.

The Journal adds that as the federation's investigating committee has also seen the film, it will no doubt draw its own conclusions.

From Suspended List to Big League Manager

From the suspended list to major league manager in less than a year. That one sentence sums up the climax to the career of the veteran shortstop Owen "Donie" Bush of the Washington American league team. Just prior to the opening of the 1922 campaign Bush was suspended by Owner Clark Griffith for what was termed insubordination. Bush failed to report for spring training. He gave as his reason an operation on one of his eyes. That was the real cause.

Owner Griffith, however, believed that Bush was merely trying to skip spring training. The Washington club had scheduled a number of one-day stands through the south. Nothing is more irksome to the veteran player. Griffith thought Bush was trying to dodge the issue. Bush was suspended without pay until in condition to play. The penalty imposed by Griffith caused a verbal combat between the two that for a time waxed warm. Perhaps the fighting spirit Bush showed in the clash with Griffith was a good thing for him. In naming him manager Griffith praises his fighting spirit.

Rev. J. J. Callan of St. Anne's Gives First in Series of Talks

Rev. J. J. Callan, curate at St. Anne's church last night, gave the first of a series of talks to be given all this week at the Central M. E. church. Paige and John streets. Rev. Appleton Grannis being unable to be present. The attendance was large, the audience being made up largely of Christmas shoppers present to partake of the hospitality of the parish—the Yuletide rest rooms and luncheon quarters being opened for the first time yesterday afternoon. The curate gave his hearers a description of Christianity's early days and went back even farther than that, when the leading nation of the period was that of the Romans. The Greeks were active in the world affairs, too, at that time with a wonderful language. A third, people, also prominent, were the Jews, who the curate said really dominated the world through the dissemination of many ideas. And everyone was looking forward to the coming of the promised Messiah. "The speaker told of the appearance of John the Baptist—of the miraculous appearance of angels in heaven—of the coming of Christ and then the work of the disciples. In closing, the curate said: "Jesus was a carpenter in Joseph's shop and was hearing considerably of the man John, who was in the cities preaching the coming of the Messiah. One day he, too, set out for the city with the rest of the people and soon came upon John, who was before a large audience in the streets. It did not take long before John noticed Je-

ANOTHER RECORD FOR 6XAD

The envy of all radio amateurs is 6XAD, experimental station of Major Lawrence Mott of the U. S. Signal Corps, at Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal. For Major Mott has established more records in the transmission of radio messages than has any other amateur in the country.

Mott's latest feat is the establishment of direct communication with an Australian station 6000 miles away. This, it is believed, is the record for amateur radio transmission.

Mott has been hanging up records in the past year since this science interest the youth of the country. He is first to have received a radio signal from across the country from Washington. Now he is being heard all over the United States with considerable ease.

Some experts express the fact that Mott happens to be in an unusually favorable locality for both radio transmission and reception. But Mott attributes his attainments to the powerful set he has installed.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR 6XAD

The envy of all radio amateurs is 6XAD, experimental station of Major Lawrence Mott of the U. S. Signal Corps, at Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal. For Major Mott has established more records in the transmission of radio messages than has any other amateur in the country.

Mott's latest feat is the establishment of direct communication with an Australian station 6000 miles away. This, it is believed, is the record for amateur radio transmission.

Mott has been hanging up records in the past year since this science interest the youth of the country. He is first to have received a radio signal from across the country from Washington. Now he is being heard all over the United States with considerable ease.

Some experts express the fact that Mott happens to be in an unusually favorable locality for both radio transmission and reception. But Mott attributes his attainments to the powerful set he has installed.

tion of radio amateurs is competing with the commercial telephone and telegraph systems of the United States by the transmission of messages by radio.

After the concerts have been broadcast, and far into the small hours of morning, messages are being flashed nightly from all parts of the country for reception and delivery by hundreds of members of the American Radio Reception League.

The extent of this unobtrusive radio traffic may be realized by a report given out by the league officials. According to this, 610 members sent and received a total of 27,353 radio messages during last October. Nearly 200,000 reports were transmitted the year ending that month.

Yet this is the work of only a fraction of the thousands of amateur members of the A.R.R.L. Hundreds of it believed, received and transmitted radio messages for others and failed to report to headquarters.

The area covered by these radio messengers extends from the Atlantic coast even to Hawaii, from which two stations reported handling of 30 messages in October, and from mid-Canada to the Gulf.

Loss of 20 days' time in the transmission and reception of trans-Atlantic signals during December, officials say, will cut down the total of messages handled during this month. This, hecause the amateur stations will be quiet during the festive season.

But the amateurs are aiming for a monthly total of 60,000 messages, which they believe they will attain soon.

BACKS AUTO INTO PARADE OF K.K.K.

"Hiking Hiram, the Fighting Marine" and 200 Klansmen in Clash

PERM, Ind., Dec. 18.—This city still was in a furore today as a result of the clash occasioned when Colonel Hiram I. Bearss, retired, internationally known as "Hiking Hiram, the Fighting Marine," backed his automobile into a parade of the K.K.K. here last Saturday night. The colonel's car was immediately surrounded by the Klansmen, the door opened, and according to some reports, the World War veteran was assaulted as he sat at the wheel of the machine.

Obtaining a wrench, the marine commander, who gained fame by the fighting spirit he displayed at St. Mihiel, climbed to the running board of his automobile and according to reports, shouted:

"Come on, you Klansmen, one and all, I'll take on the lot of you," flourishing the wrench above his head.

Cooler heads, however, prevented a further clash and possibly averted a more serious trouble as the Klansmen were out in force and Col. Bearss had at his call hundreds of citizens who idolize "Hiking Hiram" for the record he made in the Spanish-American, Philippine, Boxer and World wars. More than 200 Klansmen were said to have participated in the demonstration which was held in the principal streets of the city and was followed by an initiation.

ALLEGED AUTO THIEF ESCAPES FROM STATION

NORTH ANDOVER, Dec. 18.—Otto Shadich of Melton, brought here yesterday from Quebec in connection with local automobile thefts, escaped from the police station this morning. Half an hour before he and Edward McCarthy of this town, who had been arrested with him, were to be arraigned in police court, Myron Lewis, keeper of the lockup, had opened the door leading to the cell room to allow the prisoners to go to the toilet, and Shadich, pushing Lewis into the enclosure, made his escape. He pulled down the telephone wires, rendering making the police headquarters telephone useless. McCarthy, who was in the same room, did not attempt to escape.

GREAT ACTIVITY AT BLACK SEA PORTS

MOSCOW, Dec. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Despatches from Black sea ports indicate that extensive preparations for the exportation of grain are in progress and the port activity is said to be approaching pre-war proportions. At Novorossiysk, the iron works are preparing 14 ships for use in carrying grain and at Odessa the restoration of elevators which have been idle for several years, is being rushed.

WOMAN TEXTILE WORKER ASKS FOR PENSION

Miss Honora Stack, one of Lowell's small clan of industrious old-time mill employees with a record of 55 years of continuous service as a weaver at the Merrimack and Hamilton Manufacturing companies' looms, is seeking a pension from the former concern, where she was employed until three years ago, when she went over to the Hamilton.

Believing that she was employed long enough at the Merrimack mills to receive a pension from that corporation, she has applied for one, owing to straightened circumstances and a desire to receive enough money to provide for food and lodging for the remainder of her days. She has been informed that Agent Wadleigh would take the matter up with her upon his return to Lowell from a business trip.

Today Miss Stack called at the Lowell Humane society headquarters to obtain what aid she could from Agent Richardson, who is investigating her case and is on the lookout for anyone who may desire to extend aid of some kind in making Christmas at the little Stack home on Howard's avenue off Davidson street, just around the corner of East Merrimack street, a comfortable one.

Miss Stack has a little money in the bank, she says, and is not in immediate want, but owing to severe attacks of rheumatism of late, she has not been able to return to her work in the mills. Her last appearance in the weaving rooms of the mills was last February, when owing to sudden illness, she was obliged to go home and go to bed. That was two weeks before the Hamilton mills' strike, and she was not a member of the Textile Workers' union and has no interest whatever, she said, in strike matters, being perfectly satisfied with her wages at the time and expecting to return to the weaving room when she recovered her health and strength. That was, nevertheless, her last appearance in the mills, for her health has not been good since she gave up active duties as an operative, closing a useful and continuous record of just 55 years—a near record for a "living Lowell woman" mill hand.

Miss Stack was only 14 years old when she entered the Merrimack mills. The hours were long in those days and by operating four looms, she could make only $7.25 a week, she said today. She was compelled to stand upon a little box for a platform in order to reach the various parts of the big weaving frames, so small was her stature and as young in her years of novice employment. But she learned to weave quickly and expertly, and all the following years found her steadily at work, winter and summer, with few vacations and practically no lay-offs for illness worth recording.

With more than half a century's record at the Merrimack mills prior to her taking a position at the Hamilton, where the looms were not so large as some of the big new ones that were installed and which made it harder for Miss Stack to operate them at the Merrimack, the woman weaver believes that in her declining years she is entitled to a pension from the Merrimack corporation, as she knows several of her mill friends who have not worked so many years, yet have pensions provided by the Wadleigh executive offices.

Miss Stack formerly lived on Davidson street, where for many years she paid $13 a month rent. A few weeks ago she had to move in order to save rent, and is now paying $6 a month in a small home on Howard place, opposite 13 Davidson street. But the rent and fuel and food takes a good deal of money each month, and Miss Stack's hard-earned savings, small in amount to start with, are growing frightfully smaller each day, much to the aged mill worker's dismay. And so she is after a pension, now, and her friends are doing all they can to help her.

Miss Stack claims that when she applied at the Merrimack offices for a pension sometime ago, she was awarded $4 a week, and instructed to call each Monday morning for the weekly allotment. The payments were kept up for several weeks, then she suddenly cut off, according to Miss Stack. No reason was given, except the paymaster said there was no money coming to her, she said. The mill worker believes that payments were stopped because she had obtained work at the Hamilton mills after leaving the Merrimack corporation pay rolls, although when she applied for the pension she had no employment and needed financial aid.

GERMANS JUBILANT AT RISE IN MARK

BERLIN, Dec. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—In the midst of their Christmas shopping, German consumers were jubilant today at the unprecedented drop in the dollar, represented by mark exchange falling from $300 to $500 to the dollar in the course of five days. This rise in the mark has already produced a drop of from 10 to 25 per cent in wholesale market prices. The retailers are reluctant to make reductions because they are stocked up with goods bought when the mark was much lower.

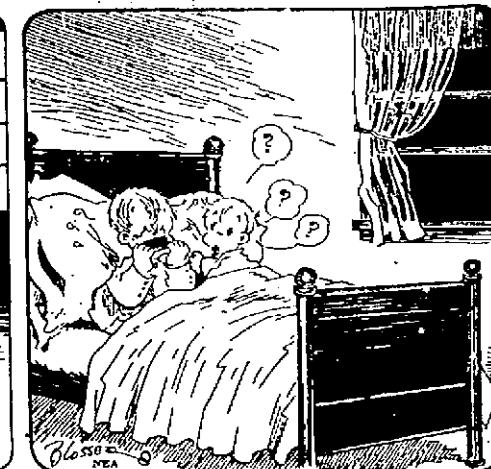

The announcement of New York's closing rate of mark exchange Saturday turned Sunday into a busy day at home for all the house traders, who were computing over night the amount of their gains, while the telephones of banking officials were swamped with inquiries regarding the prospects of exchange.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

LONDON, Dec. 18.—A plan to harness the winds and make them produce electricity for rural districts has been presented to the ministry of agriculture. The scheme involves the erection of hill tops of low buildings from the sides of which will project huge wings. These wings will be spun by the wind horizontally just above the ground.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—American exports in November reached the highest point of the year according to overseas trade statistics made public today by the department of commerce, showing an export business totalling $353,000,000.

The Gift of the Ages

As long as man aspires to greater heights, music will be his solace and inspiration. All ages—from the busy man of affairs to the child, from the grizzled veteran of life to the young couple just on its threshold—yield to the spell it weaves.

In America the hunger for music gave rise to the phonograph—and the need for a better phonograph gave rise to

For Sonora was actually the result of a profound belief that the phonograph could be made so perfect it would be difficult to distinguish its reproduction from the original. Since its introduction, refinements have been added unceasingly. Today the Sonora tone is a miracle of clear loveliness.

Adventures of The Twins

THE MAGIC PENCIL

WOBBLY WADDLED HOME AND STUDIED AND STUDIED

"Oh, I'll never pass my examination in spelling," said Wobbly Woodchuck to himself one afternoon on his way home from school.

He not only said it to himself, but he said it to Markie Mink, and to Ben Bunny, Jr., and to Cobble Coo, and to Orrie Owl, and to Marty Mink, and to everybody. When he got home he said it to his mother.

"Well," said Mrs. Woodchuck, "if you say you won't, you won't. Why don't you say, 'I'm going to pass that examination, no matter how hard it is.' Then, perhaps, you can do something. A little studying might help."

But all the good advice in the world was of no use. Wobbly was sure he couldn't spell and there was no use in trying.

"I wish I had a little magic," he kept saying over and over. "A little magic would help a lot. I've a notion to telephone to the Green Wizard, who lives in the treetops. I bet you anything he'll lend me a magic pencil if I ask him."

So off he went to a telephone and called up the place the Green Wizard lived.

The Green Wizard was at home and listened to every word Wobbly said.

"Why you, I can help you," he answered kindly, when he heard the trouble the Green Wizard boy was in. "But you'll have to show me you are willing to work first. Go home and get your speller and study all evening and get somebody to ask you the words. In the morning you'll find a magic pencil on your desk. Use it and see what happens."

Wobbly waddled home and studied and studied and studied.

Sure enough there was a new pencil on his desk next morning.

And he made a hundred in his examination without any trouble at all, much to his delight.

On his way home a voice called down from the treetops: "You did that yourself, my son. There was no magic in that pencil at all. There is no magic like our own effort."

Jack Daw in Midgetville. Chapter 2

Then the little porcupine stood up on his hind legs and started to laugh. At the same time he pulled his quills down. "Don't be afraid of me," he shouted to Jack. "I won't hurt you if you don't bother me." Jack thought this was fair enough so he ordered Flip to let the animal alone.

"I didn't know that any animal could talk," said Jack. "Well," replied the porcupine, "there are a lot of things you don't know. In fact, I'll just bet you don't know that yonder tree is a mystery tree." Jack looked around and, some hundred feet away, saw a huge, spreading tree.

"Is it really?" he shouted. "Well," said the porcupine, "you just follow me and I'll show you." When the tree was reached Jack noticed a great opening in the trunk. "Walk right into that opening," suggested the porcupine, "and you'll see a lot of things that will surprise you." (Continued.)

TIME TO PRESENT WAR CLAIMS AGAINST GERMANY EXPIRES JAN. 1

Lowell Industries Not Putting in Claims Under the "Recovery" Peace Agreement—Claims Due Local Concerns for War "Injury" to Goods Not Worth Bothing With

Under the terms of the peace treaty between Germany and the United States, it was agreed that Germany must pay to citizens of the United States (including corporations, associations and partnerships) claims for loss, damage or injury arising as a consequence of the war beginning with the inception of hostilities on July 31, 1914.

Lowell textile manufacturers were notified sometime ago that all claims, if put in at all, must be filed before Jan. 1, 1923. It was said today in textile circles that no large industrial interests in this city have bothered to file any claims under the "recovery" peace agreement, although more than one corporation is entitled to reimbursement for certain amounts named. If the trouble was taken to collect them.

At a local textile plant this morning, it was stated that small claims are due the Lowell concern from Germany for war "injury" to goods taken by the Germans from storage during the war and never paid for, but no effort was made to collect them.

Copy of Testimony at Recent Hearings on Graft Charges in Connection With Sale of Synagogue to City of Boston for Playground Presented to District Attorney

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—The municipal finance commission today presented to District Attorney O'Brien of Suffolk county as evidence which seemed to show that a crime might have been committed, a copy of the testimony at the public hearings in the graft charges in connection with the city council's change of a loan order for purchase of a North End synagogue for playground purposes.

This evidence included testimony introduced in support of charges that four councilmen had changed their votes, that the congregation Beth Israel, which owned the synagogue, set aside $10,000 to put the deal through.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 19.—Five convicts, shackled to one another, brought here from the state prison at Trenton, testified today for the defense of Mrs. Doris Brunen and her brother Harry C. Mohr, charged with killing "Honest" John T. Brunen.

The convicts were questioned in an attempt to upset the testimony of Charles A. Powell, confessed slayer, who said he shot Brunen at the instigation of Mrs. Brunen and Mohr.

M. and Some Precincts Will Report Before 7 O'Clock

Following a light forenoon vote, which has been estimated at one-third of the city's voting strength, men and women went to the polls early this afternoon in large numbers to express a preference which will elect a mayor, 15 councilors and six school committee members to serve under Plan B charter, which becomes effective in Lowell on Jan. 1.

Prior prognostications of a light vote were substantiated in part and in some sections of the city the same apathy that had marked the campaign still was apparent in the vicinity of polling booths but in other sections, interest ran high and seemed to grow in intensity as a warmer noon-day sun took some of the early morning sharpness from the air.

In every precinct there are at least two police officers and in several of them there are three. These extra policemen were requested by Mayor George H. Brown, to be assigned to all precincts in ward 4 and in precincts of ward 7 and ward 2.

The mayoralty candidates, Mayor George H. Brown and John J. Donovan, have marshaled all available vehicles of transportation in an effort to bring out large vote and in several wards, councilor contests were so keen as to add an impelling force. Although no opportunity is being overlooked to augment the poll, at the end of the first six hours in only a very few precincts had more than one-third of the registered voters responded.

Precinct 1 of ward 1, located in a booth adjacent to the police station at 12 noon, 225 out of 732 registered voters had cast ballots, or slightly less than one-third that seems to prevail through the city. For years this precinct has been called the "barometer precinct" but recently it has fallen from its position of high estate and cannot be relied upon unfailingly to reflect the attitude of the city at large.

In direct contrast to the evident lack of interest in large republican districts, was the manifest enthusiasm in the mayoralty fight in West Centralville and Pawtucketville precincts. Precinct 3 of Ward 7, in Riverside street, with a registration of 1196, had polled 500 votes, or nearly half of its strength at noon. This is purported to be a Donovan stronghold and his supporters see in it a good omen. At the Greenhidge school precinct of Ward 8, which has a leaning toward Mayor

SUN WILL GIVE ELECTION RETURNS

Tonight, as rapidly as returns from precincts are received, the sun will throw them by stereophonic upon a screen to be placed on the front of the building at a second floor window. It is expected this service will commence before 7 o'clock and will be continued until complete results are in, except if there are related returns far beyond a reasonable hour.

Brown, the vote at 12 o'clock was 550, against a registration of 1365.

In this precinct the largest vote over cast there at 7 a. m., one hour after the polls opened, was represented by the 137 ballots that had been placed in the machine at that time. A long line, extending well out into the school yard, awaited the opening of the polls at 8 o'clock and for an hour the precinct officers were kept on the jump. There was a lull in mid-forenoon, but a heavy vote was anticipated between 12 and 2 o'clock.

The voting in the democratic stronghold during the forenoon was not brisk, as shown by figures obtained at the Edison school precinct of ward 4 and the Hoxford square precinct of ward 2, where, respectively 248 and 278 votes had been cast at noon. In each case this is about one-third of the strength of each precinct.

Precincts in the Highlands showed less interest than any others. At 12 o'clock at 8-1, Westford and Marlborough, respectively, had received 10 and 12 votes.

NECKTIES EVERYWHERE

"Necktie Day" at the Lowell Rotary Club Was Big Success

"Necktie day" at the Rotary club was a success from every four-in-hand and college ready-made bow up to the Parisian silk cravats that are seen only upon rare occasions when opera is the rule at such places as the Auditorium.

More than 600 neckties—some say 700—filled all the chairs, window sills, rolltops and umbrella stands in the boys' club quarters this noon, and more packages from Rotarian homes and friends arrived before the dinner bell. Every color in the rainbow was noted in the wondrous-bued mass of old and new neckties, contributed to the boys of Lowell for their annual Christmas party, which is to be held next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the clubhouse on Dutton street.

There were neckties enough to fill a bushel basket. Nothing like it ever struck the Rotary club quarters before and made such a colorful noise. Neckwear of Scotch plaids ran rampant with apparently striped varieties popular on Fourteenth street, New York. The knitted ties were in the running, too, with plenty of queer hued varieties in the big line of chain four-in-hands, some of which the waver must have picked out for the Rotary members' Christmas last season. At any rate, a lot of the ties and checkered neck chokers never slid under an E. & W. for some time given today were in the original store envelopes. But the whole offering was an example of the contributory Christmas giving that is up to Rotarian standard withal.

Along with the bushel of neckties, someone had to slip in a lot of high collars and some low ones, and also numerous packages of nice, warm lined gloves for the boys, too, with books old and new, underclothes, shirts

COMPLETE DRAFT OF PEACE PACT

Treaty Drawn Up as Result of Deliberation of Near East Conference

Report at Lausanne That Draft Will Be Presented to Turks on Saturday

LAUSANNE, Dec. 19.—(By the Associated Press) It was reported this afternoon that a complete draft of the peace treaty drawn up as a result of the deliberations of the Near East conference here would be presented to the Turks on Saturday.

Today's session of the conference body dealing with the question of the straits was adjourned at 2 o'clock until tomorrow without an agreement having been reached.

The Turkish delegates were conciliatory during the discussions, but the Russian representatives maintained an attitude of opposition.

Lord Curzon announced that the discussions were dragging on too long, and that tomorrow's meeting must be the last for consideration of the straits problem.

Foreign Minister Tchitcherine of Russia made an effort during the debate to draw fire from the American delegation. He argued that the American statement as to the attitude of the United States on the question of the straits should be interpreted to mean that only warships on errands of mercy could go through the straits to the Black Sea. The American representatives did not reply to the soviet minister.

Lord Curzon again dominated the conference. His declaration as president, which had the ring of an ultimatum, that only one more session should be devoted to the straits, seemed to be directed more against the Russians than the Turks.

St. Tchitcherine defended at length the Russian counter project for the regulation of the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmara and the Bosphorus, but the allies informed the Russians that their counter project was not acceptable, as it meant the closing of the straits.

Ismet Pascha caused a sensation among the delegates by insisting that Greece should have no seat on the international commission on control because she was not a great power.

Ex-Premier Venizelos declared emphatically in reply that if Greece were not a great power the statistics showed that she stood second among the world's nations in her amount of commerce with the Black sea, and therefore could not be ignored.

FIRE PREVENTION TIPS BY SUPT. SAUNDERS

Now that the Christmas season is here Chief Edward P. One startling statement made by the chief was that of every ten Christmas fires last year at least one resulted in a fatality. This information he received from the Fire Underwriters Association.

DRY OFFICER ROBERTS IS TRANSFERRED

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—James P. Roberts, prohibition enforcement officer, last night said that reports from Washington that he had been transferred to the estate tax branch of the internal revenue service of the treasury department "did not surprise him." Mr. Roberts was with this branch before receiving his present appointment. He said he had not been formally notified of his transfer.

According to Washington advice the prohibition enforcement officer is to be transferred at his own request. Prohibition officials there said that only personal reasons actuated Mr. Roberts in making the request.

Mr. Roberts refused to discuss reports current here that the change was due to friction with Elmer C. Potter, prohibition director.

Time to Present War
 Claims Expires Jan. 1

fort will be made at this time to put in claims, because the belief is held locally in industrial circles that Germany will never be able to pay such claims, and it would be a costly undertaking for local claimants to push their cases through to any final adjustment. Few textile manufacturers in Lowell have any sizable claims such as specified in the action to be taken on Jan. 1, although the Saco-Loell shops have a claim against Germany that might be collected if Germany had the money, it was said today.

Whether claims have been put in for these alleged losses or not, no one in local textile circles today familiar with the affairs of the defunct concern, could say.

day failed to find any executives availing themselves of the possibility of filing any new claims for losses sustained during the late war. Claims that were certain to be properly taken care of by the United States, as well as other nations in the allied line-up, were filed sometime ago, so far as known very few corporations had goods on route through Germany at the time the war broke out, with the exception of the Saco-Loell people, and the latter shipment was not of large size at the time when the Germans started their march into Belgium.

The New Hampshire manufacturers' association has taken action as a body to recover reimbursements on "war goods" sent abroad and retained without payment by Germany. It is said a number of New Hampshire manufacturers were badly "stung" by the war in losses as a result of unpaid merchandise held and finally distributed in Germany as war loot.

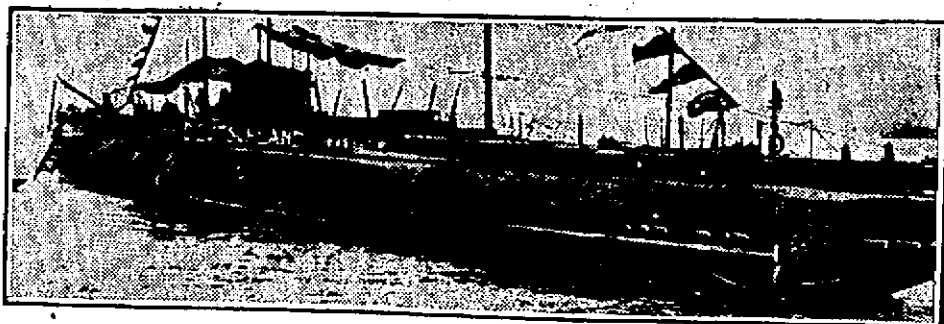

are working not so much in the hope of getting any money out of Germany at this time, but have started a campaign to recover amounts paid for war risk insurance since July 31, 1914, on property plant and plants, whether in this country or abroad; also for loss of life or personal injury in consequence of an unlawful belligerent act. The claims for reimbursement on war risk insurance monies paid out lavishly by the manufacturers of the New England states during the late war are really enormous in the aggregate.

The New Hampshire manufacturers' association has taken action as a body to recover reimbursements on "war goods" sent abroad and retained without payment by Germany. stances for which indemnification or reimbursement is sought and must be accompanied by proof of American citizenship. The German "recovery" imbroglio has been discussed in local textile circles in chamber of commerce meetings for some time past, but recently the matter was allowed to rest, as most leading industrial men of the state, in a concerted attempt of minor character that would result in extra expense to the ultimate results sought for were obtained. Hence in Lowell business quarters today the claims subject is only rarely discussed, and in very light vein.

At chamber of commerce headquarters it was said that no recent action has been taken on the part of any members to push their war insurance or other claims against Germany, as far as known today.

"Knocks germs cold"—said our druggist

"Mr. Perkins has an awfully attractive and up-to-date drug store. He says he selects the goods he sells as carefully as he fills prescriptions. He advised me to use Sylpho-Nathol."

"You'll want a long time before finding anything as reliable or as effective," he said. "I know, or I wouldn't have it on sale. Sylpho-Nathol knocks germs cold."

"I wouldn't be without Sylpho-Nathol now for anything. I used Sylpho-Nathol first in our sink. For months, it had had an unpleasant odor that we couldn't get rid of. I followed the directions on the bottle—a teaspoonful in a quart of water—and poured the clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution down the pipe. That ended the sink smell."

"I used Sylpho-Nathol for the garbage can. I never could keep it from smelling before—nor keep the flies away from it. Sylpho-Nathol ended that trouble also."

"I never felt that our bathroom was completely sanitary. But Sylpho-Nathol disposed of that difficulty."

"Now I use Sylpho-Nathol regularly all over the house—wherever there is a chance for germs to breed or odors to start."

Sylpho-Nathol meets a great need for a household antiseptic, disinfectant and deodorant because it is free from the objections that householders have to ordinary disinfectants. Sylpho-Nathol is safe. It absolutely destroys germs and odors. Sylpho-Nathol is pleasant to use. Its faint, friendly odor doesn't linger.

Sylpho-Nathol is safe. Although 45 times stronger than carbolic acid, it is no more dangerous to have in the house than a cake of scouring soap. It cannot hurt the skin nor injure household things. Sylpho-Nathol is easy to use. Just a teaspoonful in a quart of warm water, and it is ready.

Your grocer, or druggist, has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. If he hasn't it, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

REID BETTER—"DOPE" PROBE

Movie Star Winning His Fight—Able to Take a Little Nourishment

Ministers to Ask Los Angeles Council to Investigate Use of Habit-Forming Drugs

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Wallace Reid, who is in a Hollywood sanitarium, is resting easier today, with an overnight decrease in temperature, according to Mrs. Reid.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Reports early today from the sanitarium where Wallace Reid, motion picture actor, is confined, indicate that he is better. Reid is suffering from a breakdown which is attributed to complications which came after he broke away from the use of whiskey and narcotics, indicated an improvement in his condition. Reid's physicians said the actor's temperature was nearly normal and that his pulse had dropped from 130 to 112. They added Reid was able to take a little nourishment.

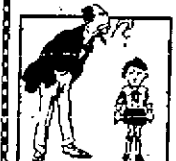

The Methodist Preachers' Association of Southern California planned to ask the city council today to appoint a commission of men and women to make a thorough investigation of the use of the habit-forming drugs in Los Angeles.

The Methodist preachers adopted a resolution, in which it was stated: "It is persistently rumored that the names of some of the biggest producers and actors in southern California are linked with the (Reid's) plight. In all this the city has suffered irreparably. The cinema industry has suffered. These conditions either obtain or they do not obtain. These stories are either false or true. The cinema industry is either benefited with an immoral element that threatens the industry, good morals and decency in our city and nation and this city's good name, or else it has been and is being maligned and slandered in an unthinkable manner."

The association asked the appointment of a commission with "power and authority to summon witnesses, administer oaths and take evidence, to find out the truth as it is known, and requested that the ministerial union and the church federation take similar action."

IN MEMORIAM

Charles E. McCarthy—Died Dec. 19, 1922. "And lost thou lead him hence with thee O setting sun, And leave the shadows all to me. When he is gone, his shadow be. My dark life light, I cannot catch his light, And bid thee night." MRS. CLARA E. MCCARTHY & SONS.

THE BOY THAT FAILED

FATHER had planned a brilliant future for him. Mother's high hopes for his success were supported ably by her everlasting faith in him.

But the boy was a bitter disappointment. He was being outdistanced steadily by his schoolmates, was dull, listless all the time, "felt sick" most of the time, never had "pep" for play nor ambition for his future.

Father had about given him up. Poor mother's heartstrings were nearing the breaking point. Evidently, it was not to be.

Then an old friend of the family—a man successful in every sense—came to the boy's rescue. Today, the father is proud of the boy who is indeed a joy to his mother.

It was simply a case of poor digestion, sluggish liver and constipation gradually dulling the senses and poisoning the system.

Knowing from experience that Becham's Pills were harmless as well as efficient, the old friend suggested them. They made the boy well—as they have hosts of other children, and grown-ups, too, who suffered from like disorders.

Several departments of the International Cotton mills, formerly the Day State Cotton Corp. in Marginal street and Broadway, are being operated nights and Agent Dexter stated today that plans are now underway for an expansion of the night work.

The company manufactures the fabrics and tire cords exclusively and it has orders on hand to keep the entire mill in operation day and night until June. The day gang works from 7.15 a. m. to 5 p. m. and then at 5.30 p. m. the night shift goes on and remains on the job until 5 a. m. The output of the company is greater than it ever was and the prospects are good for a banner year in 1923. Agent Dexter stated today that the payrolls contain 1100 names or about 500 more than in ordinary times and there is work in the plant for more skilled operatives.

Fire Prevention Tips

candle. He says that he is placing much stress against using the candle for decorative purposes because this had seems to be coming back this year. Years ago the candle was the chief instrument used in decorations, but with the coming of the small electric light the candle passed out of use. In the past year or two candles have become popular once more. The chief suggests that the small electric light be used, and for those who do not care to use them he suggests that an effective method for illuminating the tree is to focus a bright light upon it.

Placing candles in windows near lace curtains, Christmas bells and other decorations is also a dangerous practice, the chief avers. In general, he condemns the use of open flames in any form.

In outlining a set of rules Chief Saunders places emphasis on the setting up of trees securely. Many fires have been caused by the fact that trees are not anchored in secure foundations and that when they are blown down with gifts the slightest jar is apt to topple them over. Smokers are also warned to use care when near flimsy materials.

The use of toys requiring alcohol, gasoline or kerosene for their operation should be avoided as much as possible. The chief gives some general instructions to merchants, those who dress up as Santa Claus and the public in general, which if followed out carefully, will greatly reduce the number of fires. The suggestions are as follows: "Make sure that the Christmas trees are securely set up so that they will not topple over and keep them away from heating and lighting fixtures. Use metal tinsel, fake snowflakes and powdered mica for snow effects instead of paper clippings and cotton. Smokers should be extremely careful with matches and smoking material while near trees and decorations. Evergreens should be removed immediately after Christmas before they have completely dried out.

"Avoid toys requiring alcohol, gasoline or kerosene for their operation and also flimsy motion picture machines using inflammable films. Low-priced electrical playthings, too, should be tabooed, since they often are defectively wired and frequently have insecure, dangerous connections. They have caused serious burns and fires.

"If Santa Claus is to be present at the celebration persuade him to avoid the use of long cotton whiskers. His costume should be partially fireproof by spraying upon it a solution of water-glass obtainable at any drug store.

"If anyone's clothing catches fire he should be promptly rolled in a rug or woolen cloth in order to smother the flame. Keep the flames away from the face.

"Merchants should free their places of business from rubbish and paper accumulations, and should insist that employees keep all exits clear. It is difficult to keep stockrooms tidy during the busy holiday season, I realize, but it is well worth the extra effort.

"Finally," said the chief, "let every individual do his utmost not to spoil the merriment of the day. No one wishes to hear the chiming of Christmas converted into the jangle of the fire alarm."

GUARDS WHO ESCAPED FROM RIOTS TESTIFY

MARION, Ills., Dec. 19.—Four of the guards who escaped from the Herrin riots were in court today to testify against five men on trial in connection with the killing of a score of non-union workers at the Lester strip pit last June.

Severely cross-examining state's witnesses, the defense continued yesterday to lay the foundation for its case, the announced intention to prove an alibi for each of the five defendants.

Special attention was directed to the exact time of the killings. The witnesses also were questioned closely on their identifications of the accused men.

YOUTH'S YULETIDE DREAM

CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH

Rev. J. J. Callan of St. Anne's Gives First in Series of Talks

Rev. J. J. Callan, curate at St. Anne's church last night, gave the first of a series of talks to be given all this week at the Central M. E. church, 141 George and John streets. Rev. Appleton Grands being unable to be present. The attendance was large, the audience being made up largely of Christmas shoppers present to partake of the hospitality of the parish—the Yuletide rest rooms and luncheon quarters being opened for the first time yesterday afternoon.

The curate gave his hearers a description of Christianity's early days and went back over farther than that, when the leading nation of the period was that of the Romans. The Greeks were active in the world affairs, too, at that time with a wonderful language. A third people, also prominent, were the Jews, who the curate said really dominated the world through the dissemination of many ideas. And everyone was looking forward to the coming of the promised Messiah.

The speaker told of the appearance of John the Baptist—of the miraculous appearance of angels in heaven—of the coming of Christ and then the work of the disciples. In closing, the curate said:

"Jesus was a carpenter in Joseph's shop and was hearing considerably of the man John, who was in the cities preaching the coming of the Messiah. One day he, too, set out for the city with the rest of the people and soon came upon John, who was before a large audience in the streets. It did not take long before John noticed Jesus and picked him by his features as the Christ who was to come."

"John's features immediately changed to meek softness and bringing the Christ before the crowd, said: 'Behold the lamb of God which bears away the sins of the world.' It is in those words that God has made it possible that Christmas can come once a year."

Tonight Rev. A. C. McIlfort, Jr., of All Souls church will speak on "The X in Xmas." The subject on Wednesday evening will be "The Danger of a Christmas Christmas," the speaker, Rev. Mr. Kennedy.

PANIC IN SO. STATION

Automatic Pistol in Suit Case Accidentally Discharged—Two Men Shot

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—Two men were accidentally shot and a mild panic was caused among commuters at the South station when an automatic pistol in the suit case of a temporary railway mail clerk was accidentally discharged last night. A bullet which ricocheted on the pavement of the concourse struck Alton W. Tracey of Canton and Philip W. Sheehan of Mansfield, gate tenders. Neither was seriously hurt. The accident occurred when Anson H. Richards, a student at Yale who is to work on the mails during the holiday rush, dropped his suitcase to greet a friend. Persons fled thinking a hold-up was in progress.

SHEPPARD-TOWNER LAW

Constitutionality Challenged in Suit Filed by Mrs. Harriet A. Frothingham

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Constitutionality of the Shepard-Towner maternity law was challenged today in a suit filed in the District of Columbia supreme court by Mrs. Harriet A. Frothingham, of Boston. She asked that Secretary Mellon and other designated government officials be restrained from expending public funds under the act.

Mrs. Frothingham, who is the wife of Randolph Frothingham, a Boston attorney, based her action on the ground that congress in enacting the legislation, exceeded its powers, and interfered with state's rights and personal liberty.

DR. D. H. ARTHUR, NOTED ALIENIST, IS DEAD

BRIDGEWATER, Dec. 19.—Dr. Daniel H. Arthur, 61, noted alienist, physician for the criminal insane at the Bridgewater state farm, died early today. He testified in his professional capacity in various states in important court cases. Dr. Arthur was born in Springfield, O., Sept. 28, 1861, graduated from the New York Homeopathic school, was assistant superintendent of Middletown, N. Y., state hospital for insane for 14 years, of Tonawanda, N. Y., state hospital for the insane for a number of years and served as a physician for the municipal board of health, New York city, until he came to Bridgewater in 1921.

WIRELESS TELLS TALE OF REMARKABLE HEROISM

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont., Dec. 19.—The wireless today told a tale of remarkable heroism displayed by Billy Gow, fireman aboard the Reliance, after the tug, carrying 35 persons, crashed into the rocky shores of the Lizard Island, in Northern Lake Superior, nearly a week ago.

Sunday night, four days after the tug had grounded, Gow swam ashore with a rope and chained his stranded companions to make their way to the island on rafts constructed from ice skiffs belonging to the Dominion Fish company, which the Reliance was carrying.

Only one of the tug's boats was able to reach the shore. The others had been lost the first day when attempts had been made to launch them. Advice received today indicated that three lives were lost at this time. The fourth to die, an unnamed Finnlander, succumbed on the tug while being taken to the sea for treatment after he had fallen ill.

From Wednesday until Sunday, the Reliance, hard aground, was battered by gales. She struck a quarrying mile from shore, but by Sunday night the pounding waves had driven her to within 75 yards of shore.

It was then that Gow volunteered to reach the island. Plunging into the icy water with a rope tied around his waist, he struck out for land. For a time it seemed as if he would fail, but he kept steadily on.

Finally he crawled up on the shore. The rope was stretched tight and the rafters were launched. Clinging to the line, the party pulled themselves ashore.

INCREASED PENSIONS AS CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Veterans of the Civil war, widows of veterans and Civil war nurses probably will receive Christmas presents from the government in the form of increased pensions as the result of an agreement reached by conference on the Bureau pension bill.

The bill was passed by the senate last summer and by the house at the recent special session. Pensions of veterans are increased under the measure from $50 to $12 a month, widows' pensions from $30 to $50 and nurses' pensions from $30 to $50.

MUST REVEAL PLACE OF O'MARA'S IMPRISONMENT

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Supreme Court Justice Mulligan today continued until Wednesday of next week the order calling upon the Irish Free State to show cause why the place of imprisonment of Stephen M. O'Mara, Irish republican leader, should not be revealed to attorneys for O'Mara and Ramon de Valera.

The order was granted on petition of John F. Flaherty of Washington, who seeks to have a commission take O'Mara's testimony in the $2,500,000 Irish republican bond suit which has been in the New York courts for more than a year.

The papers alleged that O'Mara was unlawfully detained in Ireland and it was feared he would be killed or otherwise prevented from giving testimony before the case could be brought to trial.

Should O'Mara's life be taken between now and Wednesday of next week, Justice Mulligan ruled the injunction automatically will be dismissed.

Harold W. Bissell, attorney for the Free State, asked the court to continue the injunction a month, but this was opposed by Michael Conroy, counsel for O'Mara and de Valera, on the ground that O'Mara's chances of execution would be vastly enhanced in the event of such a long delay.

BOMB IN ASH CART NEAR BUCKINGHAM PALACE

LONDON, Dec. 19 (by the Associated Press).—A grenade bomb was found today in an ash cart which had just arrived to remove refuse from the rear of Buckingham palace.

How the missile got into the cart is a mystery, and the police this afternoon were examining it to see if the charge had been removed. The authorities say they attach no special importance to the find, believing the grenade was thrown into the cart while it was on the way to the palace by someone who merely wished to get rid of a dangerous souvenir.

HUNT ORGANIZED BAND OF "BARN BURNERS"

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—Six barns were destroyed by fire early today in Montgomery and Chester counties. The fires were all within a radius of 20 miles. In at least two instances there was evidence of incendiarism.

State policemen in large force are combing the roads in search of "barn burners" now believed to be an organized band. The fires today brought the total number of barns burned in Montgomery, Chester and Delaware counties to 38 since early October. The monetary loss now totals about $100,000.

CARNEGIE'S DAUGHTER GIVES BIRTH TO BOY

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The birth of a grandson of the late Andrew Carnegie was announced today. The mother is Mrs. Roswell Miller, only child of the iron master. She was married to Mr. Miller, now an instructor in New York university, on April 23, 1919, when he was an ensign in the navy. A daughter was born to them in 1920.

INCREASED ACTIVITY IN COTTON SPINNING

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Cotton spinning during November showed increased activity, the number of active spindles hours being 420,000,000 more than in October.

Active spindles hours for November totaled 8,710,224,791, or an average of 224 hours per spindle in place, compared with 8,292,885,148, or an average of 223 hours per spindle in place for October.

Spinning spindles in place Nov. 30 numbered 37,175,231, of which 34,466,630 were operated at some time during the month, compared with 37,125,669 in place Oct. 31, and 33,829,976 operated at some time during October.

The average number of spindles operated during November, based on activity for 8.74 hours per working day, was 39,416,039, or at 106.2 per cent. of capacity, compared with 36,934,231 or at 99.2 per cent. capacity during October.

$1000 REWARD FOR CAPTURE OF GRANT

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—Circulars bearing a description and photograph of Webster U. Grant of Uxbridge, sought by the police in the investigation of the murder Friday of George A. Willis, superintendent of Boston News Bureau messengers, were sent broadcast today by Boston authorities. The circulars also offer $1000 reward for his capture. Officials claim that Grant has been identified as the man who fled from this city to Uxbridge in a stolen car late Friday.

According to the police an employee of the Boston News Bureau recognized Grant from a photograph as a man he had seen about the place of the murder Friday afternoon. Search for Grant was proceeding here and in Uxbridge, where the automobile was found abandoned near the fair grounds. It was a pistol of the same calibre as that used in the killing of Willis.

It was intimated today that the authorities were on the track of a second man in connection with the murder. The police said that a warrant would be issued today for Grant and possibly for the other.

The South End was searched by police in an effort to obtain trace of Grant or his alleged companion, or of a girl with whom Grant was intimate. Police Chief James Fisher of Uxbridge and members of his force have scoured the woods and surrounding territory of that town in an effort to find Grant, who was said to have been seen in Uxbridge Friday night.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN THREE CITIES

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—Municipal elections in this state for the present year were brought to a close today with Beverly, Lowell and Waltham voting for mayor and city government.

Lowell and Waltham, both balloting under the Plan B form of government for the first time, were confronted with the selection of a full set of officers. Former Mayor James McPherson, running for mayor of Beverly, was opposed by Attorney George H. Whittemore, president of the city council, a veteran of the World war and the youngest candidate for the office in the history of the city.

In Waltham, former Mayor Patrick J. Dunne, at one time a United States marshal and Henry P. Beal, the present city manager, were the majority candidates. John J. Donovan, a member of the police department, and Mayor George H. Brown, a former patrolman, were the candidates for mayor in Lowell.

FIERCE STORM HELD LINER OFF SHORE

CHERBOURG, Dec. 19.—A violent storm compelled the Haer Berengaria, from New York Dec. 11, for Cherbourg and Southampton, to remain off shore near this port throughout the night to insure her safety.

Major Gen. Geo. H. Harries and Mrs. Harries, who wished to board the Berengaria on their way to London, ventured out at midnight during the height of the storm on board a French admiralty cutter. The trip was a dangerous one, the cutter being badly buffeted and some of her windows blown out, but she finally made the Berengaria safely and Major Gen. and Mrs. Harries on board.

Does all toast taste alike?

The answer to above question will appear in this space tomorrow.

Yesterday's Question: Why toast the bread?

The Answer: Some bread has to be toasted because otherwise it is too under-cooked, too soggy, too indigestible. But Bond Bread is so well-baked that it never need be toasted for any such purpose as that. The only reason for toasting Bond Bread is to bring out and emphasize that exquisite home-made flavor which Bond Bread's pure materials make possible.

LASKER WRITES CAPPER

Accuracy of Statements in Latter's Paper Questioned
by Ship Board Head

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Accuracy of statements made in a questionnaire sent out by Senator Capper, republican of Kansas, head of the farm bloc, to ascertain public sentiment on the administration shipping bill is questioned by Chairman Lasker of the shipping board. In a letter received today by Senator Capper, Mr. Lasker told the senator that "whatever may be your position upon the pending ship subsidy bill I am sure you do not desire the readers of your paper to reach their conclusions on either inadequate or erroneous statements."

"Because the statements in the circular of the organ controlled by you are not accurate and are wholly at variance with the facts," the letter continued, "I feel it my duty to you, to myself and to the people we both represent, to give you the facts and thus enable you to correct the erroneous impression your publication has created. You certainly would not wish, and I certainly could not permit, any part of our people to be misled concerning the provisions of the ship subsidy bill or the facts surrounding it."
Mr. Lasker questioned particularly statements in the questionnaire that the government intended to sell its war-built merchant fleet for approximately $200,000,000, planned to "lend $125,000,000 to reconstruction the ships or build others," and then would pay out about $750,000,000 in subsidies and aids to ship owners during the next 10 years.
Mr. Lasker said he challenged anyone to find where the shipping board ever had proposed to sell its merchant fleet for $200,000,000.

$5000 FIRE LOSS AT PALMER

PALMER, Dec. 18.—Fire which broke out in the roundhouse of the Ware River railroad, a branch of the B. & N., at about 5 a. m., today, burned off the roof of the structure and badly damaged three locomotives stored within. Railroad men were unable to remove the engines because of the intense heat. The damage is estimated at $5000, but this figure may be increased when the damaged engines are taken to the shops for repairs.

GOV. COX DEPLORES MOVE AGAINST LODGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Governor Cox of Massachusetts declared in a statement here yesterday, that he regretted the attempt made by Council W. Crocker of Boston, in a protest filed last week with the senate to obtain a hearing on the election of Senator Lodge. As attorney for John A. Nichols, defeated prohibition candidate, and as representative of the Liberal Republican League of Massachusetts, Mr. Crocker protested and challenged the election on the ground of "flagrant irregularities" in the November senatorial election and declared Senator Lodge was a minority winner and in effect had been repudiated. Governor Cox referred to the protest as "an attempt to persecute Senator Lodge," adding that the latter had "won his fight fairly" and that he "resented the action" particularly because it is really an attempt to injure the good name of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, which is proud of the fact that its elections are honest.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Joseph Herrkomer, 58 years of age, appeared in the district court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on James Custer, and after hearing the testimony of both sides, the court ordered the case continued until tomorrow for further investigation. On the witness stand, Custer exhibited a wooden implement with which, he alleged, defendant struck him several times with little or no provocation. He also stated that Herrkomer had threatened to "get him" on numerous occasions and that he carried the threat into execution a few days ago. When questioned, defendant admitted striking Custer with the leg of a chair, but said he did it because the latter's wife had interceded with him to reproach her husband for previous ill-treatment. The wife will be summoned into court tomorrow morning, at which time disposition of the case will be made. Ovilla Bourgeois pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was given a one-month's sentence to the house of correction. He was already under a suspended sentence for the same offense. George A. Dixon pleaded not guilty to the theft of a watch and chain and the case was continued until Dec. 26, bonds of $500 being furnished.

The regular meeting of the Educational club was held at 2.30 this afternoon in the rooms of the Central M. E. church. A pleasing program, "Christmas Songs and Stories," was presented under the direction of Mrs. E. D. Leggat.

Boost Your Business By Telephone

If you want to get new customers, hold the present ones, held your salesmen and save selling expense, time and energy, we suggest:

First, that you talk with one of our managers and have him tell you what toll service has done for others in increasing sales.

Second, that you appropriate $100 or more for a special toll campaign.

Third, that you select a list of prospective customers.

Fourth, that you put your best salesmen on the job and ask the toll operator to help you.

If you do these things in an orderly, businesslike way, we are confident it will prove one of the best investments you can make.

You can save time and at least 20 per cent on toll charges by using station-to-station service; that is, by asking for a number, or for the listed name of a subscriber, and not for a particular person.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 19.—The heavy snow that has covered the Grays Harbor county recently has resulted in the arrest of a number of alleged moonshiners, capture of a dozen stills and confiscation of hundreds of gallons of liquor and mash, according to announcement at prohibition headquarters here today. Federal agents and deputy sheriffs in several instances were able to follow tracks through the snow in the wooded sections where it had been impossible to locate stills.

$250,000 LOSS CAUSED BY FIRE AT NASHUA

NASHUA, N. H., Dec. 19.—Nashua had its worst fire in several years last evening when the main shops of the American Box and Lumber company of the Edgville district were burned with a loss of between $200,000 and $250,000.

Finished lumber and four carloads of coffin shocks, just ready to go out were included in the loss. Of the 200 employees, 125 are thrown out of work. The finishing mill, saw mill, garage and boiler house were saved. The contents of the office were also saved. The fire was discovered by watchman John Lafavor and spread so rapidly that two alarms were sent in. The blaze started under the eaves of the planer mill, it is thought, from an overheated bearing. Most of the buildings were two-story wooden construction and with the contents made the most spectacular fire here for years.

"SANTA'S LIEUTENANT" LOOKS LIKE GOOD ST. NICK

PORTLAND, Me., Dec. 16.—"Yes, indeed I look like Santa Claus—but I'm only his first lieutenant," says Edward K. Chapman. And like Santa, he is essential to the spreading of Christmas joy in the big eastern cities. For 56 years he has been shipping in their Christmas trees. "I returned, wounded from the Civil war. I was penniless too, and as it was near Christmas time, I decided to go into the woods to get the strengthening odor of the pines. I cut a carload of Christmas trees and took them to New York, where I sold them. Now I ship 125 carloads a year, employing 100 men to cut them."

COX SUGGESTS DRY VOLUNTEERS

Governor Would Have "Dollar-a-Year" Men Help Enforce Prohibition

Tells Pres. Harding More Men and More Money Are Needed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Problems of prohibition enforcement were discussed informally yesterday at a White House conference between President Harding, the federal department chiefs directly interested in the subject, and governors of 14 states.

There was no statement from the White House as to the results of the meeting, but it was indicated that the discussion revolved almost entirely upon the question of how the several states can best co-operate with the federal government in executing the terms of the prohibition amendment. It was indicated that another meeting of state executives may be called early in the coming year, at which time the subject would be canvassed more thoroughly.

At the White House luncheon, in addition to the president were Vice-President Coolidge, Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, Secretary Mellon, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, Govs. Cox, Massachusetts; Ritchie, Maryland; Trimble, Virginia; Harcourt, Vermont; McCray, Indiana; Kilby, Alabama; Hyde, Missouri; Preuss, Minnesota; Olcott, Oregon; Allen, Kansas; Morgan, West Virginia; McKelvie, Nebraska; Davis, Idaho, and Campbell, Arizona.

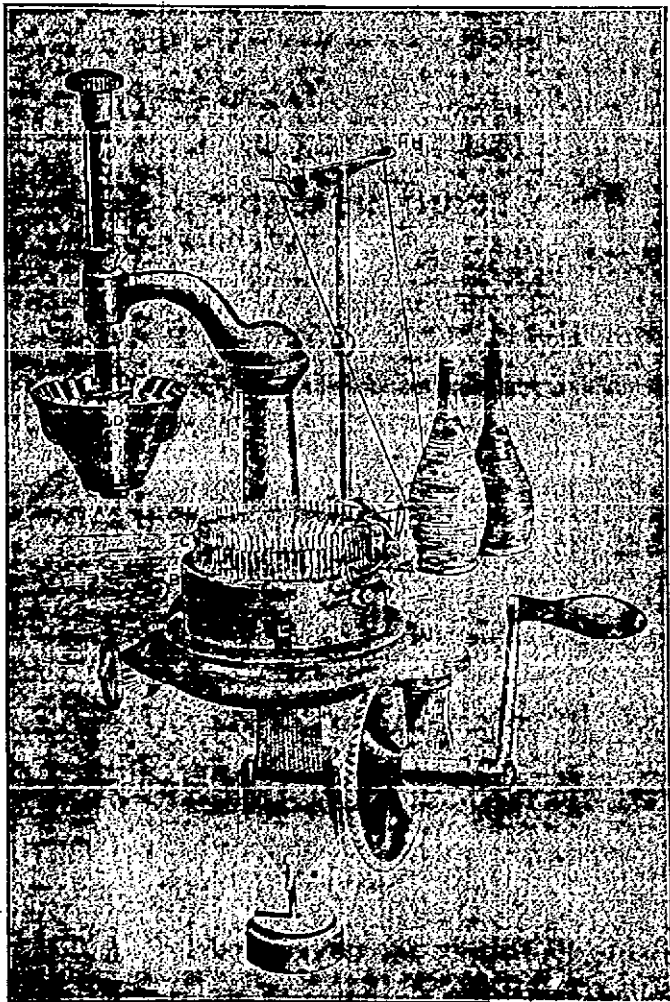

According to some of those who attended, there was no suggestion raised during the three-hour conference which indicated belief that the situation might be helped by loosening the present stringent enforcement statute. To the contrary, it was said, the prevalent opinion seemed to have been that imposition of more severe fines and prison terms on conviction of violation would assist the enforcement officials in their work.

Other suggestions, all of which were declared later to have been "entirely informal," included a more careful selection of prohibition personnel, larger appropriations for the federal bureau and education of the general public to the necessity of law reverence.

"In many cases," Commissioner Haynes declared, after the meeting, "the reports of the governors were of an encouraging nature. Numerous Instances of lack of co-operation were pointed out; many instances of the inadequacy of federal forces were suggested.

"There was a preponderance of an opinion that an earnest official appeal for reverence of the law and a cordial support of law enforcement by the press would combine to cure the worst conditions reported."

Cox Suggests Volunteers

Before going to the White House, Gov. Cox suggested that the president call for volunteers, "dollar-a-year men," to help enforce prohibition.

"The president must take the people into his confidence, tell them his problems and win their co-operation and support," said Gov. Cox. "He should call for volunteers if necessary. Massachusetts stands for law enforcement, and I am sure we would co-operate with him."

"If the administration intends to enforce the law to the best of its ability, then it seems to me that congress must be asked and must provide more money and more men; and I think it is self-evident that there should be the greatest care possible exercised in the selection of enforcement agents, grant or care that is, then seems to be exercised generally at this time.

"If the administration intends to enforce the law, it must make this evident to the public in every possible way and must ask for the co-operation of the public, to develop public sentiment in favor of the enforcement of the law. Massachusetts can and will believe, co-operate in this. I feel that Massachusetts would back up the president in this."

"I believe that the president could also call for volunteers, men actuated by public sentiment and public welfare, men who would enter the prohibition enforcement service in the public interest. It is obvious you can't have real enforcement without enough men—and the men must be honorable."

MARSHAL PILSUDSKI MAY SEEK PRESIDENCY

PARIS, Dec. 19 (by the Associated Press).—An increasing probability that Marshal Pilsudski, former chief of the Polish state, will become a candidate for the presidency of Poland, to fill the vacancy caused by the assassination of President Narutowicz, is reflected in despatches received by the French foreign office. The marshal's intervention to prevent reprisals against the nationalists after the assassination of the president is said greatly to have strengthened his position, and those in closest touch with the situation assert he will now be able to muster such a majority as to remove his own objections to his candidacy.

Marshal Pilsudski could have obtained a majority of the votes in the national assembly election at which Narutowicz was chosen, according to these despatches, but his desire was for such support as would prevent the opposition saying he was the candidate of a single party or the choice of the smaller faction. Being in doubt as to the size of the vote he could muster, he declined to become a candidate.

FOR FARMER-LABOR PARTY CONVENTION

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Delegates to the Farmer-Labor party who attended the recent conference for progressive political action at Cleveland will ask the national committee of their party to define the future relations of the party to the conference and will recommend that a national convention of the party be held early in 1923, to plan the 1924 presidential campaign. Judge Brown, the national secretary, announced that the conference at Cleveland decided against independent political action.

CONTINUE SEARCH FOR MISSING AIRMEN

COATVILLE, Utah, Dec. 19.—Scouting parties were combing the snow clad country to the northwest of here in the hope of finding one of the vanished air mail men. Henry G. Roosters of Lafayette, Ind. Roosters's steamer plane was found last night 10 miles from DeMunnig's ranch in the shadow of Poremba Ridge, near where the northern boundary of the state meets the Wyoming line. Scouts who covered the territory last night reported that attempts to reach the stranded machine had failed.

TRADE ASSOCIATION MEETINGS. WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Meetings of trade associations of groups to study costs, detect and remove trade methods are not in contravention of the law, according to an opinion by Commissioner Caskill of the Federal Trade Commission expressed in a letter made public today by the chamber of commerce of the United States. He said reports on such meetings might with propriety be made available to absent association members and other interested parties.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The week-before-Christmas vaudeville offerings at the B. F. Keith theatre are up to standard, with more excellent acts of the all-star brand featuring an excellent bill for the current period and giving patrons of the Bridge street playhouse an assortment of good things highly commendable from every standpoint. Special features improve this week's mélange of interesting vaudeville, new patrons yesterday and all the regulars' listeners to popular melodies and tell of delightful sketches containing all the elements that make up ideal entertainment of the big chain quality.

Reading this week's list of good things of the holiday brand is George Kelley's excellent gem of humor and intensity, "The Weak Spot," a play of these acts sure to please all players witnessing this admirable pre-Christmas week show. Mr. Kelley is not new in play writing. More than one of the "best" on the vaudeville line has been written by George, the ready gem producer. "The Weak Spot" comes first in line of all his recent successes such as "The Flattering Word," "Woman's Proposes" and "The Flattering Word."

Richard Reiter, Della Evans and Macie Miller—the latter presenting a unique and unusual motif—appear in this dramatic oddity, with a fortune-telling episode that makes the audience wonder what is coming next. These acts are to be followed by a connecting link of comedy holding the audience to the finish, when Reiter, in the dress of romance, builds a small figure of wax over his left shoulder to laugh danger and amend matters with the charming Della. This excellent little skit on one of life's old comedies should originate in Quaker town, of all places, makes the quality all the better. It is a clever bit with excellent acting throughout, with a little of stage favorites well mixed with putting genuine dramatic bits over the footlights.

Dickie Hamilton, clever always and in this his vaudeville appearance on the Lowell vaudeville stage presents "A syncretized cocktail" with plenty of effervescence and bang. Beloved of surprises, thrills and comedy, too, is the act of Bill Denoville and Walter in a skit, "Won't You Be Careful?" And some of the finest bicycle riding ever seen with rare experiments of the thriller department, too.

The Dawson sisters, dancers par excellence, follow with surprisingly good dancing that wins the plaudits of all lovers of the so-called light fantastic. Premier xylophonists, indeed are the two Sternardas. Grand opera in quantity, and not too much of it, for jazz winds up.

Come, again, and this time with Pierce and Ryan, clever as usual, appearing in a light comedy, "Over Wagon Fight." The special engagement for the week, filled in good shape and certainly a big drawing card as yesterday's two performances showed, was the "My Daddy" act, with Broomstick Elliott and Bibbe LaTour on deck in every staff of the vaudeville department. Miss LaTour is no new comer, and both the lady and Mr. Elliott have been appearing hitherto in "ingles" and always made good. They sing well, dance exceptionally well and have a good line of funny stuff in the talk line that makes this an ideal min.

241 CENTRAL STREET

old miser, who is seeking to prevent the marriage of his niece and thereby get hold of an immense fortune which he is to inherit at the age of 21. It is a race between the old man's tricks and Dan Cupid, but the latter wins out after surmounting many difficulties.

Ann and Tommy Moore are orphans, sheltered by the good Puritan hospital of Squire Simpson in the New Hampshire town of Hillsboro. The little lad is a typical "Huckleberry Finn" in his schoolmate and the old miser's only companion is the ever faithful dog that even carries his books to school and arranges for him to get in when he is late.

One day while fighting with another, the boy is accidentally struck by an automobile driven by Thomas Cranford, returning to the city from a vacation, and he suffers a fracture of his arm.

Cranford carries the boy into his home, meets the sister Ann, and immediately declares he will remain in the vicinity until the boy is better. A courtship springs up between the pair and in due time it ripens into love, with a promise of marriage between them. Meanwhile, the squire gets a letter acquainting him of the fact that the daughter is to inherit a big fortune through the death of her uncle, and he sets designs upon the money.

The squire's son is a good-for-nothing fellow sojourning within the city limits and returns to his father for more money when he learns that Ann is to be an heiress. The old man tries to arrange for a marriage between the pair, but the girl decides to follow her own inclinations. Seeing that it would be useless to try to break the girl of her desire, the squire arranges it so that her fiancé is framed on the day of her wedding, and she is left deserted at the altar of her happiness. The woman who framed the boy relents her action in due course and confesses that she did wrong. Explanations follow in order and the boy and girl are united in marriage amidst the rejoicing of the entire neighborhood. The squire and his son are arrested for defaming the girl's character and the last seen of them is behind the bars.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America today issued a request to 100,000 congregations in the United States to observe Dec. 24 as "World Peace Sunday" to demand that the governments of the world find ways to settle their disputes other than by war. The message also asked that the churches act in concert throughout the year toward attainment of a warless world through international cooperation.

WINCARNIS Restores Strength

"I found Wincarnis very beneficial for weakness, loss when in a run-down condition. It is several years ago since I first tried this preparation and now whenever I need a tonic I turn to Wincarnis.

Some time ago my mother was in need of a tonic after recovering from a severe illness. I bought her a large bottle of Wincarnis which soon gave her back her strength.

Also my brother-in-law, who not long ago was down with influenza, is now taking your Wincarnis as a restorative and it is doing him a lot of good.

I always recommend Wincarnis to anyone I know who is in need of a good tonic."

TEN PERSONS KILLED

Renewed Clashes at Turin Between Fascisti and the Communists

TURIN, Dec. 18 (by the Associated Press).—Renewed clashes between the Fascisti and the communists here have resulted in the killing of ten persons, including two of the fascisti.

Not long ago the local communists resumed their openly hostile attitude toward the fascisti and yesterday two fascisti parties were ambushed with the result that one man was killed and others wounded. The fascisti thereupon mobilized, attacked the chamber of labor and stormed or set on fire the headquarters of other subversive organizations, inflicting punishment according to what they adjudged to be the relative guilt of the communists.

In these operations the total of dead was increased to five. The punishment included clubbing and giving doses of haemorrhagic medicine.

Among the dead in Municipal Councilor Feruto, while among the slightly wounded is Deputy Vincenza Pagella, a Turin socialist representative.

Rathbride, railway workers; and Brian Moore of Rathbride, laborer.

They were arrested with a number of others at Rathbride, in County Kerry, says the official report, which adds that they were found guilty by a military committee of possessing, without proper authority, 10 rifles, 200 rounds of ammunition, four bombs with detonators and one exploder.

Today's executions make a total of 19 by the Free State in a little more than a month. The previous executions were:

Nov. 17—James Maher, Peter Cassidy, Richard Tuohy and John Gaffney, Dublin republicans, shot for having revolvers in their possession.

Nov. 24—Erskine Childers, chief lieutenant of de Valera, executed for having had an automatic pistol in his possession.

Nov. 30—Joseph Spoorer, Patrick Karelly, and John Murphy, executed for armed participation in a bomb attack.

Dec. 8—Rory O'Connor, Liam Mellows, Joseph McKelvey and Richard Barrett, executed in reprisal for the Hales assassination.

Train wrecking, the tearing up of railway tracks and the blowing up of bridges has been practised on a large scale by republican sympathizers in Ireland since the irregulars began their operations. This has badly disorganized the railway system and hurt trade, dispatches frequently telling of collisions between Dublin and Belfast or between other Irish points in South Ireland being cut off.

Today's drastic action aimed at the interference with train operation was under the blanket measure passed by the Dail Eireann last fall giving authority to suppress disorders. Previous executions have been in connection with the use or possession of arms, except that the last infliction of capital punishment, on Dec. 8, when Rory O'Connor, Liam Mellows and two other republican leaders were executed, was officially announced as in reprisal for the assassination of Sean Hales, the deputy shot the day previous.

De Valera Escapes Arrest

LONDON, Dec. 18.—A report circulated in Paris last night that Eamon de Valera had been captured by Irish Free State authorities lacked corroboration here today.

It was believed that the report which was printed in a Parisian newspaper may have grown out of a Dublin dispatch appearing here yesterday which said de Valera had narrowly escaped arrest while attending mass in the Catholic University church, Dublin, inasmuch as he left the church just before troops arrived.

CORK, Dec. 18.—There was heavy firing for two hours during last night in the northern suburbs of Cork, the republicans using machine guns. One civilian was severely wounded.

PLANNING HELP FOR EUROPE

There is something in the air that indicates an intention on the part of the government at Washington to take a hand in European affairs; but what the nature of the proposed action will be, cannot yet be predicted. Some say it is a great loan for Germany or some other method of stabilizing the German currency, particularly the mark, which has been almost demoralized.

Already the French press objects that the proposed action by the United States is all in favor of Germany and thus French jealousy is aroused. The fact is, that the American government can hardly move a finger to help any of the European powers without incurring the jealousy of several others. That is what we are to expect from intervention of any kind unless we take steps to benefit all alike.

Appropriately of the intention to aid Europe, Senator Borah comes to the front to say that he will oppose any move in that direction unless the allies change their policy. He says the allies must reduce their armaments and cease preparations for future wars before the United States can do anything to prevent the prospective economic chaos. It is understood that it is the question of German reparations that constitutes the main difficulty on which the United States is to restore harmony. Yet the conference of allied plenipotentiaries held in London went to pieces on this very problem. France is immovably for the terms of the treaty unless she gets explicit guarantees of aid in case Germany should again attack her. That is reasonable on the part of France in view of her experience; but if Germany is asked to do the impossible, nothing but ruin and disaster can result. It would not help matters if France carried out her threat to seize German territory. That would not bring her the amount of reparation provided for in the treaty.

Mr. Milne of Boston, just returned after a trip to Europe for the purpose of studying economic conditions, makes a very discouraging report. He asserts that unless the United States takes a hand to help, there will be financial and economic chaos in Europe and this will have far-reaching effects upon this country. He advises the holding of an economic conference at Washington to include representatives of all the powers. That would place upon the government of this country a very serious responsibility. The European nations would undoubtedly, with one or two exceptions, plead subject poverty and helplessness and yet in Europe they are squabbling among themselves and in some cases preparing for another war, which they believe to be ahead. One of the things they want is to get the United States into the League of Nations. If we belonged to the league, it might actually curtail some of its original aims in preserving the peace of the world, but there is no likelihood of our joining the league just at present or in the near future.

The government contemplates some line of action, but what it is, has not yet been determined. Evidently something must be done, and quickly; if an open rupture is to be prevented between England and France, if France is to be deterred from occupying a part of Germany and if Russia can be prevented from joining Germany in a sort of Bolshevik movement against the rest of Europe and indirectly against the United States.

Representative Acheson, it appears, intends to bring up the matter of annexation before the incoming legislature. That is a big question and one that deserves consideration not only by our city government, but by the members of the legislature. The amazing change that has come over the city in regard to the conditions of life and transportation during the past fifteen years demands expansion outward. The automobiles have revolutionized our system of transportation. Thousands of workers in the factories have now their automobiles, whereas before they depended upon the street cars. Under such conditions they can rapidly reach their homes in the suburbs; and it would be quite as convenient for this class to reside at the Dracut Navy Yard or at Dracut Centre as up in the remote Highlands. Indeed the Navy Yard is much nearer to the business center of Lowell than are some parts of the Highlands. If we are to enlist additional territory, the Navy Yard is the first that should be considered. It is most closely connected with Lowell and could be the most easily developed. The tax rate in that part of Dracut has been much higher for some years than the tax rate in Lowell owing to the establishment of a special water service. Dracut would derive much benefit from annexation to Lowell in the line of better fire protection, better streets and the extension of our water supply, which is regarded as the purest in the state.

The time is not far distant when it will be advisable also to annex North Chelmsford to Lowell. That is a thriving village on the line of railroad with great opportunities for development of the territory between the Lowell line and the village proper. Much of it is covered by natural woods, but there are splendid sites for factories along the railroad. Already several factories have been located there and under annexation others would undoubtedly follow. The area of our city is so small that expansion becomes an absolute necessity. The other direction in which our city might expand is southward along the Concord river and Gorham street, but before any annexation is favored in that quarter, it may be necessary to build a new bridge across the Concord river to accommodate South Lowell. These projects will all bear discussion and while at the present time the city has enough to do to take care of its accepted streets, still due provision must be made for the future and opportunities offered for expansion that will enable the people to get away from the congested districts and afford industries suitable sites at a moderate cost. Some years ago The Sun advocated such an expansion and it was allowed to lapse because our city officials felt they had all they could do without taking on new responsibilities. The need existed then, however, but it is much more pressing now.

THAT NEW ATHLETIC FIELD

The problem of the new high school athletic field at Spaulding park is not going to be very hard to solve so far as the matter of securing funds is concerned, we believe. The public at large has been showing splendid interest in the campaign for money, and subscriptions are coming in regularly. Some people understood that an option was secured upon the entire park, but the extent of the purchase will depend on the funds.

The real problem ahead of the athletic supporters of this athletic field plan, is the question of land area that would be entirely adequate for the purposes desired. If the first proposed area is to be in any way inadequate, as has been stated, it would seem desirable at this time to purchase more land, or in other words, the entire park, which we are informed is at once available, and thus give both sexes in the high school ample room for all athletic programs.

Under the present arrangements, we are informed, the girls students of the high school would be compelled to disperse with some athletic activities that they would like to engage in, with the present area favoring more the boys' side of the contemplated sports programs.

That would be highly unsatisfactory. The school should have the entire park, which will be none too large for special occasions. Moreover, the school will grow in numbers from year to year so that less than the entire park would soon be inadequate.

POLISH ASSASSINATION

The assassination of President Narutowicz of Poland recalls the assassination of the Austrian official that led to the World War. In that case also, as in this, it was an individual of radical tendencies who committed the crime. The question arises as to what is the political significance of this assassination, whether it came as the result of a plot or merely as the act of a man mentally unbalanced. It is alleged that the assassin has been on the point of mental derangement for some time on account of an automobile accident in which he suffered injuries to his head. He had been an artist but abandoned his work on account of his injuries.

It has been known that the late president was recognized as being in sympathy with the Jews, who had been persecuted and are still the objects of anti-Semitic hatred. If President Narutowicz opposed the persecution of the Jews, he did so only on the ground of simple justice and not because he wished to put them forward in opposition to any particular class in the republic.

It appears that as a result of quick action on the part of the Polish cabinet, measures have been adopted to prevent any further disorder. General Dluski, former president, has been placed in charge of the situation, and being a military leader, it is expected he will have no difficulty in preserving order until such times as the parliament meets to elect a new president.

MONKEY FUR

Street dresses made entirely of monkey fur, are the rage abroad. They are also appearing in New York.

Ten monkeys have to be killed to provide the fur for one of these dresses. And the fur is "best" when taken from a mother monkey with babies. Wearing such an outfit is a walking advertisement of cruelty. That process would soon exterminate the monkey tribe.

Many animals face extinction. The age of the reptile has practically passed. Some mammals already are extinct. Others—especially antelopes and various kinds of wild game—are in danger and can be saved only by a drastic program of conservation. Smith Riley, who has charge of Uncle Sam's bird and game preserves, gives this warning.

Once a species becomes extinct, it can never be restored and man's only reminder that it ever existed is to be found only in the skeletons preserved in natural museums.

BUILDING OPERATIONS

The old Herald building, Broadway landmark in New York, was remodeled in 1921 at a cost of $400,000. Now they get ready to tear the whole building down. A new structure, to cost $1,450,000, will be finished by next October.

In all our big cities, one of the severest penalties of congestion is this vast outlay of building wealth, rapidly followed by destruction to make room for something better. In the long run, who pays for this waste of wealth? The land is valued at $2,500,000. In this proportion it seems that $25 in rent will be paid on the land value for every $14.50 on the actual building.

TRAIN SERVICE

Complaints are numerous relative to delays and irregularities in the passenger service of the Boston and Maine. This is chiefly due to the lack of proper repairs of the locomotives and the cars. It is true, that the system is hard pressed to meet the demands made upon it, but the employment of inexperienced men in the repair shops is largely responsible for this state of affairs. It all comes down to the refusal to settle the shopworkers' strike; and apparently the company is paying a heavy toll. Besides, the public is suffering from the delays and the inconvenience at the busiest season of the year.

American bankers have sent out a pamphlet showing the result of saving in the schools of the United States. This report shows that school saving banking is conducted in five schools in the city with 42 per cent of the pupils enrolled in those buildings participating. The average weekly collection is $331.65. This is not a large amount but it will serve to teach the pupils engaged in it the very important habit of thrift. It is of little or no use to earn money if it is foolishly spent.

Today we presume the editor of the Courier-Citizen practised what he has been preaching in this campaign and cast his ballot for the "devil" of his acquaintance. We never rated any of the candidates quite so low as that.

Robbery of stores by gunmen in frequent in other cities. Lowell is seldom visited by such robbers but, nevertheless, it is well to be prepared for them should they decide to come this way.

Only a few days remain to finish the Christmas shopping and it would be unwise to allow any important part of the business to go over until Friday or Saturday.

John W. Daly, candidate for councilor, was the star orator of the open forum at the Auditorium last night. His speech on good municipal government was both able and eloquent.

It is all over but the weeping and gnashing of teeth among the friends of the fallen.

The open forum gives the dishonest candidate a fine opportunity to prove that the other fellow is the rogue.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Within a day or two now the city will play host to a number of young men and women who return from colleges and boarding schools to spend the Christmas holidays. Many of them left the city in September and have not been here since, although those who attend schools within a 50-mile radius managed to make the fireless line to get a few bites of Thanksgiving turkey. No doubt they will allow a vacation of 10 days or two weeks. The Christmas vacation is one that is always looked forward to by students, especially those who have left home for the first time in their lives. Many friends will come with their families, and when they do, it is possible we should all give them a warm greeting.

One of the finest bits of oil painting I have seen in a long time, by anyone who does not devote his entire work to the art, is that which was hung in one of C. H. Colburn's windows in Market street. The painting is entitled "A Winter Night" and is from the brush of Walter S. Flynn, the artist of the company's advertising department. Mr. Flynn's ability is known to many, and some few years ago he was recognized as having wonderful ability if he cared to develop it. However, he felt adapted to a business life and has surely made good in his chosen profession. During a spare time, Wally, as he is known to his friends, still keeps his hand in the game, as is shown by his latest product. A number of neatly painted cards, also from Mr. Flynn's brush, adorn the window.

I wonder how many motorists know the value of a can of ether in their car during the winter months. During cold weather, I understand a few drops of ether in the carburetor is one of the most effective ways to start the car. I noticed that before he attempted to start his car, he went to the front of the machine and lifted the hood, and stuck on a self-starter and the car started with a whirr. When he took his seat beside me I mentioned the fact that he must have been operating on the day as I saw ether. He then informed me just what the ether was used for. I was still a bit skeptical until he produced the can, and after we had a good stop, he repeated the process right in my presence.

Now that the Christmas season is upon us, I notice that the forests are being raided by people cutting down small trees. I also notice that one man has offered $100 reward for the arrest of a thief or evildoer leading to his arrest or conviction. One cutting evergreen trees on his property. I don't know as I blame the man, under the circumstances. There is no harm in taking a tree and one who does not like to see the forests cut down. Of course, a Christmas tree brings joy and gladness to many hearts, and this is the only excuse that may be offered for the cutting of trees into consideration, there should be some way devised to provide for the distribution of trees and at the same time protect the forests.

Every Christmas three-fourths of the fat people get fatter.

The Money Question
"I have come to consult you," she said to her lawyer, "what is the trouble?" "I have three proposals of marriage and I don't know which to accept." "Which man has the most money?" "Do you imagine," she asked, "that if I knew that I would consult you or any other lawyer?"

A Thought
Five great intellectual professions have hitherto existed in every civilized nation; the soldier's, to defend it; the pastor's, to teach it; the physician's, to keep it in health; the lawyer's, to enforce justice; and the mechanic's, to provide for these men, on due occasion, to die for it.—John Ruskin.

Test of Humor
In Arnold Bennett's new play one of the characters tells a story which, she says, is regarded as a test of humor—men usually see it and women don't. Here is the story: "A lady said, 'I don't like green peas and I'm glad I don't like them, for if I liked them I should eat them and I don't like them.'"

Unsuccessful Doctor
A storkette that dates to the 18th century is as follows: Dr. do not and once the duty man trudging along the dusty road on a summer afternoon. The postman remarked that he had still a mile to walk just to deliver one newspaper. "My goodness!" exclaimed the sympathetic doctor, "such a trifle why don't you send it by post?"

Thought He Was Arrested
A Gardiner, Mo., man who had invited a Boston friend on a hunting trip found it necessary to be out of town when he arrived. He called a policeman to attend to the car and the policeman met the man and told him that he was to go with him. Humbly the man complied, at loss to know what it was all about, but, regarding the machine as a car, he explained the situation much to his relief.

A Trying Moment
A contractor borrowed a badly worn car for an emergency trip. The owner apologized for the machine's rather bad condition, but that it would not work. The contractor said he could drive anything that has four wheels, and calling an employee to go along, he set forth. A little way down the road the contractor noticed the absence of a key to the ignition switch. Later he discovered that the emergency brake did not work. After another mile he found himself rolling down a smooth level road toward a bridge, and a second glance showed a six-foot bridge gap between the bridge and the bank. Violently he jammed on the footbrake, only to find that it would not work. His eyes fixed on the bridge he stopped hard on the reverse, but the pedal was stuck and would not budge. Turning to his companion, he remarked cheerfully: "Well, here's hoping the gas gives out!"

The Flackerman
The flackerman has heaps of fun. Repeating fall or break, His head is full of angles' lore, Not learned from any book. With patient skill he wields the rod, To lure the lurking trout. And when he gets one on the hook He loves to pull him out.

He whips the trout-brook in the spring. That best his fancy suits, He wears a creel of ample size, And hip-high rubber boots. It's great to see the skill with which He casts the worm or fly. And works the rods and landing net— And can he tell a lie?

WOODBINE SOCIAL AND ATHLETIC CLUB

A well attended meeting of the Woodbine Social and Athletic club was held Sunday and routine business transacted. Extension plans are under way for the coming New Year's eve party to be staged on an elaborate scale by the club this year and preliminary reports point to a most enjoyable and successful affair. A committee consisting of Chairman William Conroy, John Horan, William and Jack Foye, was appointed to take charge of this social function. It is expected that many out-of-town guests will be present, including Michael J. Sullivan, a former member of the club and present chief of police in Webster, Mass.

The report of the dance committee was read and accepted; also the report of the ladies' night committee. Preparations for the big annual dance are now being made and extra effort will be expended to make this year's affair the best yet conducted under Woodbine auspices.

William Booth, of the athletic committee, addressed yesterday's gathering, speaking of the basketball team which is to represent the club on the court this winter. He told of the strong team to be met in the near future and asked the co-operation of the entire membership in backing the club's athletes. One of the strongest outfits in the state will be met in a local court after Christmas.

William Lester, the popular secretary of the club, spoke at length on the good and welfare of the organization, after which the meeting adjourned.

COAL TEAMSTERS GET WAGE INCREASE

At a special meeting of the Coal Teamsters' union held last evening with President Frank Horne in the chair, the new scale wage for the year 1923, agreed upon by a joint committee of union members and representatives of the Lowell Coal Dealers' association, was approved and signed. The new scale calls for an increase of 2 1/2 cents an hour for the yard help, 3 1/2 for single teamsters and four cents for double teamsters and chauffeurs, making the wage scale for the year 1923 as follows: Yard help, 40 cents an hour; single teamsters, 45 cents; double teamsters, 47 cents and chauffeurs, 57 cents. The new scale will go into effect Jan. 1 and will remain in force a year.

The agreement between the union members and their employers expired last April, but at that time action was deferred until after the settlement of the coal strike. Last Friday evening a conference was held between employers and employees and the latter presented their demand for an increase of seven cents an hour, but a compromise was reached by which the new scale was approved. The committee consisted of Ivan Nelson, chairman, Patrick Bradley, James Hanson, Frank Stowell and Frank Horne.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem SHORT SHRIFT

You ask me why I ever roam
Upon the roads unraveling,
Why don't I stay content at home
And rest awhile from traveling?
Well, there's a vagrant streak in me;
The fates somehow decree it. In
The world there's such a lot to see,
So little time to see it in!

Why do I join each sport that's gay
And jump in lightly, merrily,
Whenever there's a chance to play?
It's plain enough, yea, verily:
Life is a fire that swiftly flames.
Its days—you can't delay them in
Their flight. There are so many games,
So little time to play them in!

Why do I snatch at every chance
To join life's conflicts clamorous,
Why am I avid of romance
And of adventure glamorous?
I give great zeal to play or strife
Because the years to give it in Fly fast. There's so much joy in life,
So little time to live it in!

PROVIDENCE AND SALEM POLO LEAGUE WINNERS

PROVIDENCE, Dec. 14.—The fastest polo game seen at the local rink was staged last night and the Gold Bugs noted out a win over New Bedford, 3 to 2. The Whalers played their regular steady game and Providence set the big crowd of fans in a frenzy by holding Duggan's crew tight all the way. New Bedford had two in and out shots and the Gold Bugs had one. Both goal tenders were in rare form, particularly in the final period, which was barren for both quintets. The scores:

GAMES TONIGHT
Worcester at Lowell.
Salem at New Bedford.
Providence at Salem.

POLO NOTES

Fred Jean's Worcester team, which with Providence, set the pace in last week's play, will meet Lowell at the Crescent rink tonight.

Lowell lost to Worcester in one of the hardest fought games of the season on last Saturday night, and Captain Markins and his crew are out for revenge.

This will mark a busy week for the South and the team is out to get away to a good start.

With "Kid" Williams back in the lineup and playing in mid-season form local fans look forward to a winning start.

The race tightened up considerably last week as a result of New Bedford, leaders since the opening of the season, running into a slump. The Whalers have been setting a terrific pace, but their lead has been greatly reduced. Another such week as the past one will see a new team out in front.

Salem continues to play fine polo but according to reports the attendance figures are not showing any increase. If several other cities had such a classy team packed houses would be out to greet the athletes at every game.

Election returns will be given out between the periods at tonight's game.

LOWELL HIGH NOT IN B. A. A. TRACK MEET

As there will be no schoolboy events in connection with the annual B. A. A. track meet in Boston this year, Lowell high will not be represented in the games. Neither the special 1000-yard dash nor relay races will be run this year, according to Manager Thomas J. Kany's announcement. Exeter and Andover will be the only schools, other than colleges, allowed to send men to the meet, which means that Lowell high's annual relay with Lawrence will not be run.

In past years Lowell high athletes have made history on the Boston track. It will be remembered that Warren Mahur and Brock Darling made high tandem sit up and take notice a few years ago when they won the schoolboy high jump championship against a strong field of competitors.

VARNUM INDEPENDENTS' LOST

The Varnum Independents lost to the snappy Y.M.C.A. junior basketball team in St. Anne's parish house court last night, the score being 22 to 6. Cohen and Clark in the first half, Ratchen and Smith played well for the juniors while Riley was the Independents' best performer. The lineup and summary:

JUNIORS INDEPENDENTS
Ostroff, Jr. .... 1r. Urbaneck Cohen, Jr. .... 2r. Poulette Cohen, Jr. .... 2r. Kapala Brand, Rosefield, Jr. .... 2r. Thomas Clark, Brown, Jr. .... 2r. Riley White Baskets, Ostroff 3, Cohen 3, Clark 3, Rosefield 1, Cohen, Urbaneck, Poulette and Riley, Time, four eight-minute periods. Referee, Clark.

AL DIAMOND DEFEATS RITCHIE

(Special to The Sun) Al Diamond, formerly of Lowell, had an easy time in Victor Ritchie of Harlem and handed out an artistic facing. This was Ritchie's first bout in a comeback stunt, but the Lowell boy was his superior all the way. Frankie Jerome won over Jaky White in the star event on a foul in the eighth round.

JIM CORBETT BACK IN RING

"Gentleman Jim" made a brief return to the squared circle, not to face an opponent but to referee a bout between a couple of lightweighters in a Christmas fund benefit. The two youngsters who did their stuff like veterans are Willie Wargo (right) and Harold Jensen (left). Note Willie's business-like crouch.

BOYLE-CLINTON BOUT $350,000 TO DEMPSEY LOOKS GOOD TO FANS FOR WILLARD BOUT

President "Deak" Dodge, of the Moody club has completed his card for Thursday night's show and it looks like one of the best of the season. Phinney Boyle, local lightweight champion, and Johnny Clinton, former New England lightweight title holder, are the principals listed to perform in the feature event of ten rounds. This bout is one that should be replete with skillful boxing, as both are past masters in the art of self defense. It is creating great interest among followers of boxing.

Boyle has been boxing for about a dozen years, during which time he has appeared against many of the leading lightweighters in the country. But in his last battle here when he met and defeated South Boston Johnnie McGee, he showed the best form of his career. He not only boxed wonderfully, but he stood right in there and fought like a tiger. This combination was a real winner in the eyes of the crowd, and the new style brought him the verdict.

Clinton is a clever fellow, who showed in his battle here with Tony Julian on Thanksgiving day, that he is an expert workman and can also hit hard and take stiff blows if necessary. His bout with Julian was a hummer all the way and in winning over the Brocktonian Clinton made a great impression. Surrounding the Boyle-Clinton bout are three good numbers. Lefty Williams and Hubert Jack are to appear in the semi-final, Eddie Purcell and Jimmy Richardson are scheduled for one preliminary and Joe Grade and Jimmy Duffy are to swap punches in the other six rounds.

LIVELY BALL HAS CREATED NEW STYLE

What about the lively ball that has caused all home-run records to be knocked to smithereens in the last three years?

President John Hepler of the National League recently came to the defense of the lively ball, saying that it supplied the much needed punch of the game. Hitting. For a time the moguls of baseball ridiculed the idea that the new ball was better than the old one. But that has all been settled. At the recent world series one of the officials of the factory that manufactures all the center balls used in the majors, said:

"The ball now in use is a lively ball because it is the best ball that we have ever made. It is not admitted that it created a new era in sports. It is a distance hitting. Also remember that during the last four years all attendance records have been broken, which makes it seem that the public is in favor of hard hitting."

SOUTHPAWS VERY SCARCE

Pitching runs in cycles. The major leagues constantly vary as to their pitching strength.

Just at present the American League is weak on southpaws. There really isn't a great left hander in the American league.

Dick Kerr of the Chicago White Sox, perhaps the most valuable southpaw in the organization, spent last year in the independent ranks because of a salary difference.

Helmach of the Athletics, Pennock of Boston, Brunet of St. Louis, Mordridge of Washington and Oldham of Chicago are the best of a very ordinary lot.

There is no southpaw in the American league who registers up to the caliber of Cooper of Pittsburg, Neft of New York and Riley of Cincinnati.

YANKEE-WHITE SOX DEAL STILL ON

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees, is authorized to state that the much rumored deal which would send Meusel, Ward and Hoyt to the White Sox in exchange for Eddie Collins, Bibb Falk and another Chicago player, is "still on."

Huggins said that there was still hope that an agreement might be reached between the Yankees and the White Sox, which would result in the triple exchange.

He also said that there were indications that the deal by which Jake May, the young pitcher of the Vermont team of the Pacific Coast league, would come to the Yankees, might be completed before the new year.

JOE RAY TO RESUME TRAINING
CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Joe Ray, milerunner, whose suspension from amateur athletics terminates January 1, is expected to resume training for the 1923 Olympic games Tom Eck, trainer at the University of Chicago, announced today after a conference with Ray's representatives. He said he will be under the colors of the Illinois Athletic club.

CARPENTIER-SIKI BOUT

Study of Film Shows Descamps Spoke to Siki's Manager in Fifth Round

PARIS, Dec. 19.—A close study of the film of the Carpenter-Siki fight shows that Franco Descamps, manager of the French boxer, went to Siki's corner in the fourth round and said something to Siki's manager, the Senegalese manager, according to a story printed by L'Auto today. The journal recalls that according to Siki's allegations, it was in the fourth round that the negro had arranged to allow himself to be beaten. Vice President Bourbariat of the boxing federation, in an interview with L'Auto, said that for the manager of one boxer to talk to the manager of another while a bout was in progress constituted a very serious fault.

The journal adds that as the federation's investigating committee has also seen the film, it will no doubt draw its own conclusions.

From Suspended List to Big League Manager

From the suspended list to major league manager in less than a year. That one sentence sums up the climax to the career of the veteran shortstop Owen "Donnie" Bush of the Washington American league team. Just prior to the opening of the 1922 campaign Bush was suspended by Owner Clark Griffith for what was termed insubordination. Bush failed to report for spring training. He gave as his reason an operation on one of his eyes. That was the real cause.

Owner Griffith, however, believed that Bush was merely trying to skip spring training. The Washington club had scheduled a number of one-day stands through the south. Nothing is more irksome to the veteran player. Griffith thought Bush was trying to dodge the issue. Bush was suspended without pay until in condition to play. The penalty imposed by Griffith caused a verbal combat between the two that for a time waxed warm. Perhaps the fighting spirit Bush showed in the clash with Griffith was a good thing for him. In naming him manager Griffith praises his fighting spirit.

MRS. BRUNEN DENIES ANY PART IN MURDER

MT. HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 12.—Mrs. Doris Brunen and her brother, Harry O. Mohr, charged with the killing of "Honest" John T. Brunen, circus owner, denied on the witness stand yesterday that they had any part in the slaying of the showman.

Charles M. Powell, confessed slayer, testified last week that he had shot Brunen as he sat at the window of his home in Riverside, N. J., on March 10, at the instigation of Mrs. Brunen and Mohr.

Sobbing convulsively, Mrs. Brunen said: "I have never in my life talked about killing my husband. I loved him." Mohr, preceding the showman's widow on the stand, made an emphatic denial of every allegation of Powell and the other witnesses for the prosecution involving him in the shooting.

"I never urged, hired or suggested to Powell that he kill Brunen, and I never promised him money to kill him," he declared.

Mrs. Brunen denied she ever called her husband a brute or that he was cruel to her, "except when he was intoxicated." She admitted having had trouble with him. The witness said she had forgiven Hazel Brunen, her step-daughter, for what she had said against her when she testified for the prosecution.

Mohr, in his testimony, gave a detailed account of what he did on the day and evening of the killing. At the time of the shooting, Mohr said, he was in Philadelphia, and it was not until the following morning that he saw Powell. Powell testified that he had joined Mohr a little while after the shooting.

ANOTHER RECORD FOR 6XAD

The envy of all radio amateurs is 6XAD, experimental station of Major Lawrence Mott of the U. S. Signal Corps, at Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal. For Major Mott has established more records in the transmission of radio messages than has any other amateur in the country.

Mott's latest feat is the establishment of direct communication with an Australian station 6000 miles away. This, it is believed, is the record for amateur radio transmission.

Mott has been hanging up records in radio ever since this science interested the youth of the country. He is first to have received a radio signal flashed across the country from Washington. Now he is being heard all over the United States with considerable ease.

Some experts express the fact that Mott happens to be in an unusually favorable locality for both radio transmission and reception. But Mott attributes his attainments to the powerful set he has installed.

tion of radio amateurs is competing with the commercial telephone and telegraph systems of the United States by the transmission of messages by radio.

After the concerts have been broadcast, and far into the small hours of morning, messages are being flashed nightly from all parts of the country for reception and delivery by hundreds of members of the American Radio Relay League.

The extent of this unobtrusive radio traffic may be realized by a report given out by the league officials. According to this, 410 members sent and received a total of 27,983 radio messages during last October. Nearly 200,000 reports were transmitted the year ending that month.

Yet this is the work of only a fraction of the thousands of amateur members of the A.R.R.L. Hundreds, it is believed, reply and transmit and do messages for others and failed to report to headquarters.

The area covered by these radio messages extends from the Atlantic coast even to Hawaii, from which two stations reported handling of 30 messages in October, and from mid-Canada to the Gulf.

Loss of 20 days' time in the transmission and reception of trans-Atlantic signals during December, officials say, will cut down the total of messages handled during this month. This because the amateur stations will be quiet during the tests.

But the amateurs are aiming for a monthly total of 50,000 messages which they believe they will attain soon.

IMPEACHMENT CHARGES TRACKS CLEARED OF WRECKAGE

Hearings Move Forward at Slow Pace in Absence of Cong. Keller

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—In the absence of the principal prosecutor, Representative Keller, republican, Minnesota, hearings before the house judiciary committee on impeachment charges against Attorney General Daugherty moved forward today at a slow pace.

Representatives Woodruff of Michigan and Johnson of South Dakota, republicans, were before the committee by invitation of Chairman Volstead, but Mr. Johnson said his charges in the house last April regarding war frauds were directed solely at the war department and Mr. Woodruff was not ready to proceed.

Both Mr. Johnson and Mr. Woodruff said there had been a decided change in the situation since last April when the latter charged the attorney general with a failure to prosecute war fraud cases.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The decision of Federal Judge Hand at New York, holding that foreign vessels cannot bring intoxicating liquors into the territorial waters of the United States, was attacked as contrary to immemorial usage and unwarranted by any present law in a brief for the foreign wine and liquor industry filed today by former Attorney General Geo. W. Wickersham.

The candidates to be voted upon were: For president, Daniel Martin and John McManis; first vice president, Arthur McQuaid and Simon Dean; second vice president, Kathleen Wilson and Winifred Lester; secretary, Edith Adler and Marguerite Shugart; treasurer, Donald Hillman and Roger Kennedy. The results of the election will be made known tomorrow.

Two Main Lines Entering Boston From South Were Tied Up Last Night

Providence Express Derailed —B. & A. Tracks Washed Away by Flood

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—The main lines of the two railroads entering this city from the south—the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Albany—which were choked by accidents at the same time last night, were operating again today. It was not until this morning that the New Haven completed repairs to the roadbed at Hyde Park, where a Boston-Providence-New London Express was derailed, although partial service just that point was restored during the night.

The Boston & Albany tracks under the Beacon street bridge, where the burst of a 42-inch water main flooded the roadway and washed away a section of the bridge, were tested and found able to carry the traffic after the water had been drained into Muddy river.

It appeared today that there would be no fatality as a result of either accident, notwithstanding that there were more than 300 persons on the crowded New Haven express train. Miss Josephine Hildesheim of North Bergen, N. J., most seriously hurt, was reported on the road to recovery.

Investigation of the derailment, still incomplete, was said officially to indicate that it was due to a broken rail.

MUST HAVE PERMITS TO USE OIL HEATERS

Application blanks have been received at the water department office in city hall for all those who intend to install domestic oil-heating apparatus and to keep stoves and use all in a dwelling house or other buildings in connection therewith.

The blanks are from the division of fire prevention, department of public safety office in Boston. According to Chief Saunders, the law now prohibits the use of gravity oil heaters unless permits are issued by the chief of the department. The chief says that the law is a new one and he has not yet had a chance to examine it at any great length. He believes, however, that it will not have any effect on those people using the small oil heater such as is used for heating a small room.

The chief said he thought the law was aimed at those storing large quantities of oil in the same manner as those who maintain gasoline stations under permits.

SUBMIT AGREEMENT TO SHOE WORKERS' UNION

HAVERHILL, Dec. 19.—The Shoe Manufacturers' association today submitted the draft of a proposed working agreement to become effective January 1, to officials of the Shoe Workers' Protective union. The agreement provides there shall be no voluntary stoppage of work and it to run for the year 1923.

Provision for a five and a half day week for 26 weeks and five day weeks the remainder of the year instead of the present five day week schedule is provided. Wages are to be settled annually on May 1 of each year and will become effective a month later.

A board of arbitration consisting of representatives of the manufacturers of the union and a neutral member, would settle all disputes. Under the agreement only members of the union will be employed.
